French Farmers Battling Beetle Menace

One of the many hazards farmers have to contend with is invasions by insects that are injurious to crops, fruits and vegetables. In France the farmers are trying to cope with Colorado beetle menace that has broken out. One of the methods being used to kill the insects is shown in above picture. A helicopter is being used to spray a potato field near Caen. An estimated 10,000 acres in the neighborhood of Caen will receive same treatment. (SNS Photo)

Railway Workers Ask More Money, Less Work

MONTREAL (CP)—Fifteen International Brotherhoods, representing 100,000 Canadian rail workers, announced today they had served notice on the railroads demanding a five-day, 40-hour week with the same take-home pay as for 48, plus a wage increase of seven cents an hour. Formal notice of the unions' demands was served on the railroads Thursday, a month before expiration of the agreement which brought more than 150,000 rail workers a 17-cents-an-hour wage increase last July 16.

There was no immediate comment from the railways on the submission.

The announcement was made by Frank H. Hall, vice-president of the brotherhood of railway clerks (A.F.L.), who is chairman of the brotherhoods' joint negotiating committee.

Under the current agreement the average railroad wage is $1.09 an hour. The 48-hour work week prevails in nearly all branches except the locomotive shops, where a 44-hour week is in force.

Although the 15 brotherhoods affiliated with the American Federation of Labor announced a month ago they intended to seek reduced working hours and higher wages, today's announcement was the first time they had made public their actual wage demands.

Other Unions Plan Action

At the same time the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.B.E.), which numbers 25,000 members, is preparing formal notice of its intention to seek revision of the present agreement with the railways.

The C.B.E., whose members work on the same terms as the A.F.L.-affiliated workers, also announced in May that it would seek the 40-hour week and a 30 per cent wage increase.

The C.B.E. is expected to submit its formal notice in a few days.

Mr. Hall's announcement said: "The proposals require that the adjustment to a 40-hour week be made without reducing the amount to be paid for 40 straight time hours below the compensation now paid for a 48-hour work week. It is proposed that the new work hours shall be made effective Sept. 1, 1949.

"Employees must have two consecutive days off duty each week, but if they are worked on these days must be paid at punitive rates not less than time and a half.

"The amount of wage increase requested is seven cents per hour, to be effective July 17, 1949."

Mr. Hall said the negotiating committee had asked for a conference with the railways prior to next July 16.

Darwin Years Behind Reds In Evolution—It Says Here

MOSCOW (AP)—A Russian newspaper contended today that Russian scientists "were discussing" evolution many years before Darwin. This is the latest in a long list of scientific "firsts" claimed by the Russians.

(Charles Darwin published "On the Origin of Species by Natural Selection" in November, 1859, in London. It set forth the theory that man had evolved through a lengthy series of changes from more primitive forms of animal life. It is commonly summarized as claiming "man is descended from the apes.")

The Leningrad Znamaya published a lengthy article by Professor S. S. Sobol listing Russian scientists it said preceded Darwin with this idea.

These included Lomonosov, Afanasy Kaverznev, A. N. Radishev, A. I. Gertzen and N. A. Sevetzov.

Recount Asked

VANCOUVER (CP)—A recount of ballots has been asked in the closely-contested riding of Fernie, the defeated Coalition candidate disclosed today.

Veteran Labor member Tom Uphill held a narrow 31-vote edge over Coalitionist Ken Stewart when all votes were counted. Mr. Stewart has announced he will seek a recount.

1,000-Mile Voyage To Cast Ballots

HALIFAX (CP)—Some 80 men aboard the Canadian weather ship St. Stephen, now at Station Baker, midway between Labrador and Greenland, will make a 1,000-mile voyage next week to vote in the federal election, the navy announced today.

The St. Stephen will leave her station June 23, arriving in St. John's, Nfld., June 24 and her men will vote the next day after studying nomination lists. She will return the next day to Station Baker. Men aboard the St. Stephen will cast ballots for candidates in the two-member riding of Halifax.

Shanghai Blockade Bluff Ends, Shippers Again Take Chances

SHANGHAI (AP)—Shanghai's blockade, which turned out to be a bluff, ended today. But some shippers were chary of future plans.

One said the Chinese Nationalists realized now that a bluff had been effective and that they might at any time steal in at night and mine the Yangtze ship channel.

But most shippers were less cautious. They were scheduling their ships back into Shanghai as fast as possible.

River was thought to have been mined a week ago. Navigation was halted until Thursday when two vessels dragged the river's mouth for mines and failed to find any.

Canadian Ship At Southampton Held 'Hot' By Dockers

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (Reuter)—Longshoremen today refused to unload the Canadian freighter Seaboard Trader, the crew of which has been on strike for seven weeks. The ship's crewmen all are members of the Canadian Seamen's Union.

The decision not to handle the cargo of wheat and timber followed an informal dockside meeting today. A mass meeting of dock workers has been called for tonight to discuss the question.

The crew picketed the ship Thursday after chain lashings over the holds and deck cargo had been removed. The crew charged that the chains were removed by scab labor and that union men had refused the job.

A representative of the ship's agents said the lashings had been removed legitimately, the orders coming from a "high level."

The Seaboard Trader has been held up here since April 29 with 3,000 tons of wheat and 7,000 tons of timber. The tie-up costs the ship's owners $1,600 a day, the ship's agents said.

The crew went on strike along with all C.S.U. crews around the world after Canadian ship owners signed an agreement with the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

LONDON (Reuter)—The Bristol Beaufighter, one of the most famous wartime aircraft types of the R.A.F., is about to be withdrawn from operation service after an active career of nearly nine years, the Air Ministry announced Thursday.

Private Broadcasters Ask CBC Demoted As Radio Czar

ST. ANDREWS-BY-SEA, N.B. (CP)—Canada's private broadcasters want the CBC demoted as boss of Canadian radio to the status of a rival with similar privileges.

Delegates to the four-day annual Canadian Association of Broadcasters' convention here Thursday concluded sessions by electing William Guild of radio station CJOC, Lethbridge, Alta., chairman. They also adopted resolutions requesting a separate regulatory authority and seeking confinement of CBC activities to non-commercial public service broadcasting.

Immediate effect of this first petition would be to take regulatory power from the government-owned corporation. A later re-

Heat Is Cause Of 6 Deaths

By British United Press

Forest fires broke out anew and the number of drowning deaths soared today to six in the last 24 hours as Eastern Canada's heat wave continued into its seventh consecutive day.

In Ontario, where most farmers have gone without rain for 21 days, crop damage continued to rise, with latest estimates putting it well above $100,000,000.

Farmers faced a severe shortage of cattle feed for next winter unless cover-crops were shown as suggested by the Ontario Agriculture Department.

Agriculture officials predicted the drought would result in higher prices of meat and vegetables in the coming year.

NORTHERN HAZARDS

In all heavily-wooded areas of the north country, the forest fire hazard was reported very high. In New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Maine and other New England states, several fires were raging out of control. Vermont's woods were closed by state government orders.

The weatherman held out little hope of relief. The public weather office said very warm and humid air continued to dominate the southeastern part of the continent, extending as far north as Lake Superior and central Quebec.

Coldwell Says Bank 'Trust' Monopolized Vancouver Bonds

EDMONTON (BUP)—The national leader of the C.C.F., M. J. Coldwell, is demanding a federal government investigation of what he calls irregularities in a recent bond issue floated by the city of Vancouver.

He spoke at an election rally in Edmonton Thursday night. He said six banks and 22 investment firms joined forces in offering one-way bid which Vancouver was forced to accept. He said the procedure should have been the offering of competitive bids.

Mr. Coldwell called the banks and investment firms a "powerful financial interest" and added that it would be an "outrageous affront" to Vancouver if a federal investigation was not held.

The C.C.F. leader said Vancouver had suffered a "substantial monetary loss" because of the tie-up.

result probably would be the establishment of private radio networks in the Dominion. Both these matters have cropped up during previous C.A.B. deliberations.

Establishment of a separate radio licensing and regulatory board may be urged before the parliamentary radio committee. Initial steps will be a presentation to the Royal Commission on Arts and Letters by the C.A.B. board of directors. The second step will follow if it appears advisable.

The second resolution requested a presentation which would ask that the CBC's activities be confined to non-commercial public service broadcasting.

In Disfavor

ANA PAUKER

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—The firebrand Communist who has been running Romania's foreign affairs, Ana Pauker, is in disfavor with Moscow over money matters, the Swiss weekly Weltwoche says today.

The independent newspaper, one of the most widely-circulated in Switzerland, says Foreign Minister Pauker deposited funds of the Romanian Communist Party in Swiss banks without advising the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

Mrs. Pauker long has been considered one of the top-favorites of Moscow and a person who has been as close as any to the Kremlin.

Six More U.S. Oil Firms Get Rights On Land In Sask.

REGINA (BUP)—An additional six U.S. oil companies have completed negotiations with the Saskatchewan government to explore and develop a large acreage of land in Saskatchewan. Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank made the announcement.

This brought to 12 the number of American oil companies which have completed negotiations with the government within the last few days. Thursday, Brockelbank announced that six other U.S. companies were making arrangements to explore and develop approximately 9,000,000 acres under oil leases in Saskatchewan.

In the negotiations announced today about 8,000,000 acres of Crown lands are involved.

The six American companies involved in the latest agreement are Sohio Oil, Chicago Corporation, Midstate Petroleum, Texas Gulf Oil, Republic Natural Gas and the Union Sulphur Corporation.

French Strikers Resist Discipline

PARIS (UP)—The unions involved in Wednesday's 24-hour strike of French civil servants threatened today "to use all the means in our power" to nullify the cabinet's decision to penalize workers who participated.

The cabinet decided at a meeting Thursday to penalize all strikers a day's pay. Some will face dismissal and loss of pension.

The union protest called the government's attitude "hard" and "unconstitutional."

The civil servants struck in an attempt to obtain wage increases.

Colony's Defence Subject Of Talks Reuters Informed

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain has asked the United States to define its attitude in the event of a Chinese Communist attack on Hongkong, a usually reliable source said today.

It was authoritatively understood that the future of Hongkong has been one of the matters discussed in recent weeks between the Nanking representatives of Britain, the United States and certain Atlantic Pact and Commonwealth powers.

Though the talks have been primarily about diplomatic problems which will be raised if it becomes necessary to recognize a Communist regime in China, the position of foreign commercial interests and of Hongkong were also understood to have been thoroughly reviewed.

The defence of Hongkong was also understood to have been the subject of direct diplomatic exchanges between London and Washington.

Referring to the continuing despatch of British military reinforcements into Hongkong, a Foreign Office spokesman emphasized today the British government wishes for friendly relations with the Communist authorities in China if possible.

New Try At Treaties By Big 4 Ministers

PARIS (AP)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers have stretched their unofficial deadline to make another stab at reaching accords on an independence treaty for Austria and a German trade pact.

Deadlocked early today after a gruelling series of sessions, the ministers recessed until Sunday and set still another meeting for Monday. The parley had been expected to end Thursday night. Informed observers said agreement on the German question seems near. They said the issue has boiled down to East-West differences on principle.

Hope for some sort of agreement was bolstered by the fact that the ministers extended their meetings.

The German question hinges on a trade-and-transport accord, over which the ministers have been wrangling for days.

The situation has been complicated by the four-week Berlin railway strike.

Treaty May Be Signed In New York

The Austrian treaty promises to be a long, arduous task. Probably it will not be ready for signing until fall, when the ministers are reported planning to reconvene in New York.

An Austrian treaty might widen the gulf between Russia and Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito. Tito's government has put forth several war claims on Austria, which Russia in the past has backed. If the treaty is signed, Russia will have withdrawn that backing.

The West believes this would move Tito closer towards them in an economic sense at least.

Furthermore, the Austrian treaty would help stabilize the over-all European situation by relaxing tensions. This would enable the countries of western Europe to concentrate more on economic recovery than on military preparedness. The western powers economic health in their part of Europe is the best possible antidote to communism.

The big thing blocking an Austrian settlement is understood to be Russia's claims for properties in east Austria that had been taken over by the Nazis and now are considered by the Russians to be Nazi assets.

These include oil wells, oil exploration rights and the east properties of the Danubian Steamship Company.

Atlantic Pact Moves Forward In Italy

ROME (BUP)—The Italian foreign affairs commission of the Chamber of Deputies today approved the Atlantic Treaty and voted that it be brought up for ratification in the full House before the end of the month.

Communist attempts to delay ratification until the United States also has ratified it were defeated.

Manitoba C.C.F.-ers Hit B.C. Party Pinks

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Manitoba C.C.F. leaders today generally blamed a section of the British Columbia C.C.F. party which opposed the North Atlantic Pact for the smashing C.C.F. defeat in B.C.'s provincial general election Wednesday.

Donovan Swales, C.C.F. Manitoba secretary, said he thought the C.C.F. lost a lot of support "because of its antagonistic attitude to the North Atlantic Pact."

Under the coal board's order, all coal for railways was immediately halved.

As winter closed in on the fuel-short land below the equator, widespread storms dislocated coal distribution. Ten days before the strike date, Sydney's supplies of illuminating gas were falling, bringing a week's rationing to Australia's industrial capital.

The miners' strike decision, taken at stop-work meetings in defiance of a coal-board ban, leaves the men open to prosecution by the government or the mine owners. The offence is punishable by a fine of $300 a man.

Long Wade For Next Bus

When a heavy rain, filled storm sewers in Dallas, Tex., causing drainage waters to back up, this bus was stalled on a flooded main street. Passengers waded to safety. Massive thunderstorms throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth area—almost 12 inches of rain fell in less than 12 hours—caused severe damage and at least 10 deaths. (NEA Photo.)

Unbreakable Glass Used In Spectacles

NEW YORK (AP)—A new safety glass for eyeglasses was demonstrated today.

These lenses are sandwich glass, the same as auto windshields. In the middle of each lens is a sheet of plastic.

Demonstrations were made to show the new glasses are a protection to eyes of children, because they stop the bullets of B-B guns, and arrows and slingshots do not break them.

A B-B rifle bullet at 35 feet cracked the new lens, but broke an ordinary lens into fragments. No fragments flew from the crack in the new lens.

Forest Service Rushes Equipment To Uncontrolled Sechelt Blaze

B.C. Forest Service crews and equipment today are being moved into the Sechelt peninsula to join company fire fighters in an effort to control a 100-acre forest fire near Gray Creek.

The fire broke out Thursday in the property of the Lamb Lumber Co., Sechelt, and efforts of the 60-man company crew were unsuccessful to stop the blaze.

The forest service is rushing boats loaded with men and pumps and hose to the area but the hazard was reported high and forest service officials here said it would be fortunate if the fire could be controlled before doing further damage.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has refused to tell the United States how many German prisoners of war she still holds, or how many have died in captivity. Furthermore, the Soviets say they want to hear no more about the matter.

Moscow's attitude was disclosed today when the U.S. State Department published the latest Soviet note on the long-standing controversy. The department issued with it a statement renewing the U.S. charge that Russia still holds "several hundred thousand" German prisoners.

New 'Black Dahlia' Type Murder Faces Los Angeles Police

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Another in the long series of sadistic sex murders since the "Black Dahlia" slaying 2½ years ago confronted Los Angeles homicide officers today.

The garroted, mutilated body of a 28-year-old hairdresser and mother, Mrs. Louise Coulter Springer, was found Thursday in her husband's sports convertible car, abandoned on a street on the near south side, only a block and a half from where the "Black Dahlia's" body was found. There was evidence of brutal rape.

Coroner Ben Brown tentatively gave strangulation as the cause of death. Mrs. Springer had been strangled with a sash cord, her 99-pound body thrown into the back seat of the car and covered with a tarpaulin, investigators reported.

The husband, Laurence G. Springer, said his wife disappeared Monday night when he left her sitting in the car while he went back into the store, where she worked, for her glasses.

A resident of the neighborhood where the car was found—Don Graham—told police the car was parked there by a man wearing a grey uniform resembling that worn by a navy chief petty officer. Two other persons said they saw a curly-haired man throw the canvas over the back seat.

Police said the murder method resembled the unsolved slaying of Elizabeth Short, the "Black Dahlia," Jan. 15, 1947.

Canada Hopes For Future Lumber Sales To Britain

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada expects to sell dollar-short United Kingdom at least $30,000,000 worth of lumber this year—and perhaps more if the U.K. can get Marshall Aid approval.

A trade official said today that Anglo-Canadian lumber contracts completed for 1949 call for shipment of 325,000,000 board feet from the west coast at an approximate cost of $22,000,000.

This is in addition to the 130,000,000 board feet of spruce, valued at $8,000,000, eastern Canadian mills will supply.

At least one further Anglo-Canadian lumber contract is expected to be completed this year.

This is for Britain's supply of Douglas fir for the last quarter of 1949. Because of a "distressed" lumber area showing up in the west coast of the U.S., Canada is not certain to get the complete contract.

Under U.S. Economic co-operation Administration regulations, the U.K. can buy the lumber in Canada if prices complete favorably with prices in other countries, including the U.S.

With a surplus developing in the western states, there is the possibility that Canada will have to share the quarterly contract with U.S. mills.

'Always Been Loyal' Woman Spy Suspect Swears Under Oath

WASHINGTON (AP)—Judith Coplon swore today that "I have always been loyal to the United States."

Appearing as her own star witness in defence against espionage charges, she was asked if she had signed a loyalty pledge while working as a political analyst in the Justice Department.

She said she did and added the avowal of loyalty.

The testimony was an extension of Miss Coplon's denial Thursday that she ever was a Communist or had ever given government secrets to Valentine A. Gubitchev, the Russian with whom she was arrested in New York March 4.

Federal agents said they found secret counter-espionage material from Justice Department files in her purse.

She explained her association with Gubitchev as a romantic, though kissless—one, and denied she had ever committed any offences against the United States.

Three Die When Plane Crashes Into Ontario Cottage

NAKINA, Ont. (BUP)—Police reported three men were killed when a light aircraft crashed on a summer cottage two miles from here today.

Police identified the victims as Felix Cryderman, an R.C.A.F. veteran and pilot for Austin Airways, Sherman S. Scott, a timber cruiser for the Long Lac Pulp and Paper Co., and Robert Scott, a forestry student.

The Fairchild, single engine aircraft was owned by Austin Airways.

The plane had just taken off from Cordingley Lake, when it nosed into a cottage and burst into flames. The cottage was unoccupied.

The bodies were so badly burned they were identified only when airways officials arrived at the scene. The plane was a twisted mass of blackened metal.

Police said the plane had just begun a tree-spotting mission, cruising over the north country, marking off areas where cutting would take place next.

Cryderman, a veteran flyer of the R.C.A.F., had several near escapes prior to his death today. He spent five days in the bush country last December when his plane crashed through the ice of a lake near Geraldton.

He is survived by a wife and one son.

15 Unions Seek 7-Cent Boost After July 17

MONTREAL (CP)—Fifteen international brotherhoods representing 100,000 Canadian railway workers in the non-running trades, announced today notice had been served on the railways for a general wage increase, to be followed by a reduction in working hours.

The brotherhoods ask:

A general increase of seven cents an hour, effective July 17.

Reduction of the work-week from 48 to 40 hours, without loss of take-home pay, effective Sept. 1.

Present rates for various classifications were not made known, nor the average rate in the non-running trades.

But as an example, using a purely arbitrary hourly rate of $1, the worker at present gets $48 a week. Starting July 17, under the proposals, he would get $1.07 an hour or $51.36 a week.

Beginning Sept. 1, his take-home pay would still be $51.36, but on the basis of a 40-hour week his hourly rate would be $1.28.

Formal notice of the unions' demands was served on the railways Thursday, a month before expiration of the agreement which brought more than 150,000 rail workers a 17-cents-an-hour wage increase last July 16.

There was no immediate comment from the railways on the submission.

The announcement was made by Frank H. Hall, vice-president of the brotherhood of railway Clerks (A.F.L.), who is chairman of the brotherhoods' joint negotiating committee.

Although the 15 brotherhoods affiliated with the American Federation of Labor announced a month ago they intended to seek reduced working hours and higher wages, today's announcement was the first time they had made public their actual wage demands.

Other Unions Plan Action

At the same time the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.B.R.E.), which numbers 25,000 members, is preparing formal notice of its intention to seek revision of the present agreement with the railways.

The C.B.R.E., whose members work on the same terms as the A.F.L.-affiliated workers, also announced in May that it would seek the 40-hour week and a 30 per cent wage increase.

The C.B.R.E. is expected to submit its formal notice in a few days.

Mr. Hall's announcement said in part:

"Employees must have two consecutive days off duty each week, but if they are worked on these days must be paid at punitive rates not less than time and a half."

Mr. Hall said the negotiating committee had asked for a conference with the railways prior to next July 16.

Japs From Brazil Assured War Lost

TOKYO (Reuters)—Prince Takamatsu, brother of Emperor Hirohito, today assured six Japanese from Brazil that Japan lost the war.

The Japanese, the first to visit Japan from Brazil since the end of the war, said half of Brazil's 300,000 Japanese still believe Japan won the war or that the war was still going on.

Prince Takamatsu said he hoped the Brazilian Japanese would "face reality."

Prepare Obituary Of Bulgaria Premier

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovak newspapers have been told by Communist authorities to get the obituary of Premier Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria into type, a Czech newspaper man said today.

Rationing Of Coal Halts Australia's Steel Output

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Australia's steel industry must cease production tomorrow under a drastic coal-rationing order issued today by the government coal board.

The order directs steel plants to use only enough coal to keep the factories in order.

The rationing directive followed

Thursday's decision by the majority of the country's 24,000 miners to call a general coal strike June 27 unless their wage demands are met. The miners have claimed a weekly raise of 30 shillings ($5), a 35-hour week and long-service leave.

Under the coal board's order, all coal for railways was immediately halted.

Heat Wave In East Causes 6 Deaths In Last 24 Hours

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Forest fires broke out anew and the number of drowning deaths soared today to six in the last 24 hours as eastern Canada's heat wave continued into its seventh consecutive day.

In Ontario, where most farmers have gone without rain for 21 days, crop damage continued to rise, with latest estimates putting it well above $100,000,000.

Farmers faced a severe shortage of cattle feed for next winter unless cover-crops were shown as suggested by the Ontario Agriculture Department.

Agriculture officials predicted the drought would result in higher prices of meat and vegetables in the coming year.

NORTHERN HAZARDS

In all heavily-wooded areas of the north country, the forest fire hazard was reported very high. In New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Maine and other New England states, several fires were raging out of control. Vermont's woods were closed by state government orders.

Manitoba C.C.F.-ers Hit B.C. Party Pinks

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Manitoba C.C.F. leaders today generally blamed a section of the British Columbia C.C.F. party which opposed the North Atlantic Pact for the smashing C.C.F. defeat in B.C.'s provincial general election Wednesday.

Donovan Swales, C.C.F. Manitoba secretary, said he thought the C.C.F. lost a lot of support "because of its antagonistic attitude to the North Atlantic Pact."

Another reason for the C.C.F. defeat, Swales said, was the popularity of the Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition because "it has gone a long way along paths of social security advocated by the C.C.F."

Canadian Ship At Southampton Held 'Hot' By Dockers

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (Reuter)—Longshoremen today refused to unload the Canadian freighter Seaboard Trader, the crew of which has been on strike for seven weeks. The ship's crewmen all are members of the Canadian Seamen's Union.

The decision not to handle the cargo of wheat and timber followed an informal dockside meeting today. A mass meeting of dock workers has been called for tonight to discuss the question.

The crew picketed the ship Thursday after chain lashings over the holds and deck cargo had been removed. The crew charged that the chains were removed by scab labor and that union men had refused the job.

A representative of the ship's agents said the lashings had been removed legitimately, the orders coming from a "high level."

The Seaboard Trader has been held up here since April 29 with 3,000 tons of wheat and 7,000 tons of timber. The tie-up costs the ship's owners $1,600 a day, the ship's agents said.

The crew went on strike along with all C.S.U. crews around the world after Canadian ship owners signed an agreement with the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

Coldwell Says Bank 'Trust' Monopolized Vancouver Bonds

EDMONTON (BUP)—The national leader of the C.C.F., M. J. Coldwell, is demanding a federal government investigation of what he calls irregularities in a recent bond issue floated by the city of Vancouver.

He spoke at an election rally in Edmonton Thursday night. He said six banks and 22 investment firms joined forces in offering one low bid which Vancouver was forced to accept. He said the procedure should have been the offering of competitive bids.

Mr. Coldwell called the banks and investment firms a "powerful financial interest" and added that it would be an "outrageous affront" to Vancouver if a federal investigation was not held.

The C.C.F. leader said Vancouver had suffered a "substantial monetary loss" because of the tie-up.

Defendant Denies He Is Communist

Facing a charge of assaulting his wife, Daniel Frankham, 4130 Braefoot Road, denied that he was or ever had been a member of the Communist Party when questions were fired at him by Municipal Prosecutor C. L. Harrison in Saanich police court Thursday.

Charge was dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Frankham also denied allegations that he had deliberately terrorized his wife, Elsie. She told the court her husband often went to her room to tell her "crazy things like how to beat a person up without leaving marks and how you could slowly poison a person."

Mr. Harrison, continuing his questioning as to accused political leanings, wanted to know if Frankham had any newspaper

In Disfavor

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—The firebrand Communist who has been running Romania's foreign affairs, Ana Pauker, is in disfavor with Moscow over money matters, the Swiss weekly Weltwoche says today.

The independent newspaper, one of the most widely-circulated in Switzerland, says Foreign Minister Pauker deposited funds of the Romanian Communist Party in Swiss banks without advising the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

Mrs. Pauker long has been considered one of the top-favorites of Moscow and a person who has been as close as any to the Kremlin.

clippings in his possession dealing with activities of the Communist Party. Accused said he did not, but had some clippings of general news interest he had kept during the war. He was willing to show these to the police, Frankham said in reply to a question.

Magistrate Hall, after hearing all the evidence, expressed the opinion he did not think the accused was trying to terrorize his wife.

Cheap Skating For Children At Arena Aim of Commission

A minimum charge for school children wanting to skate at the Memorial Arena is the aim of the arena commission, it was learned today from F. N. Cabellu, chairman.

"We want to make it as cheap as possible for youngsters using the arena," he said.

Mr. Cabellu, former city alderman, said the commission was asking the city for free water for the rink.

Water and power were two of the biggest items of expense the commission would be up against in running the arena, and concessions in water at least would help pave the way for the charging of small admission fees to children.

It is believed that the city could make concessions regarding water without running foul of the Municipal Act in that it owns the arena and has merely appointed a commission to operate it.

Dry Weather Will Cut Berry Season

If Greater Victoria's weather continues dry, strawberries won't last much longer, a city wholesaler predicted today.

He advised all householders intending to preserve or make jam of the fruit to buy their berries now. There is little chance, he said, that the berries will drop in price. In fact, he said, they may soon start to move upward.

First Okanagan cherries of the season are now on sale here. A shipment of pineapples from Cuba arrived in the city yesterday.

Bananas are scarce. Wholesalers have a shipment on hand but the fruit is still too green to market.

Regular shipments of Texas tomatoes are being received here. Local hothouse tomatoes are selling well.

New potatoes are fairly scarce this week but wholesalers expect an improvement in the situation early next week. Some old potatoes are still available.

MODERN CHAUTAUQUA

A CHANCE allusion to chautauqua in a conversation the other day brought back to my mind a movement which seems to have gone the way of many others, in the face of competition from the ubiquitous radio and movie.

Although I have never attended a chautauqua, I remember it used to be a familiar feature on the prairies and in the smaller towns of British Columbia when we first came to Canada, bringing troupes of itinerant entertainers and lecturers for from three days to two weeks at a time.

It was like a circus with a cultural appeal—bringing music and entertainment and education to places far removed from the cultural centres—and was usually held in tents, to which people came from miles around.

ORIGINATED IN U.S.

THE MOVEMENT, which is peculiarly American in origin, started nearly a century ago with camp meetings attended by families of pioneers. These were conducted for two or three days by circuit riders or itinerant preachers, and everyone camped in tents or wagons while the meetings were on.

But it broadened out later, in 1873, when a Methodist minister named Vincent suggested that the meetings be extended to eight weeks and some secular as well as religious subjects might be included. As he saw it, the purpose of chautauqua should be "to provide a college that trains indolent people to work with their hands; that trains people who work with their hands to work also with their brains—to think in their work, to think for their work, to make other people work and think."

ADULT EDUCATION

AND I CANNOT think of any better aim for any educational scheme than that suggested by Vincent. In fact, the chautauqua institution was the forerunner of adult education as we know it today, although over the years it became commercialized and tended to veer more towards the entertainment side than the cultural.

As I said before, the ubiquitous radio and movie has almost driven the chautauqua out of the rural field, as it has driven the living theatre and the concert out of many of the cities.

The British Arts Council long ago realized that only through mass enjoyment, appreciation and activity can the arts of any country have a strong, healthy basis. So they took steps to bring living music and drama, as well as top quality works of art, to the people of rural Britain.

A young New York woman, Barbara Chapin, who also realized this fundamental truth is seeking to provide cultural opportunities for her fellow-Americans by organizing a novel carnival caravan to tour the more remote rural areas.

CULTURE ON WHEELS

SHE BELIEVES that culture can be dished out of a mobile truck as easily as doughnuts and coffee—and find as many eager "customers."

Her caravan consists of 14 gaily-colored trucks and a bright staff car, and will include an art gallery, a book brigade, a concert hall and a midway. It will roll—with circus excitement—into small towns of 4,000 to 5,000 and play a five-day stand.

It is Miss Chapin's hope that this non-profit, cultural enterprise will develop strong enough community interest and leadership so that the carnival caravan when it moves on will leave behind it a desire to make creative recreation a permanent part of community life.

In other words, it has taken almost a century to make Vincent's idea come full cycle from chautauqua to carnival caravan.

Ontario Success In Rain-Making Reported Within Narrow Limits

OTTAWA (AP)—Man can force nature to produce rain, but whether enough of it could be produced to aid Ontario's parched crops, for instance, is unknown.

J. L. Orr of Toronto, head of the low temperatures division of the National Research Council, said in an interview Thursday that the council has completed 57 rain-making trials and got rain half the time.

"If we had the right kind of clouds to work with and the right temperatures we probably could get rain more often than that," he said.

With the use of dry ice the council has found it could seed supercooled billowy cumulus clouds and set off the trigger to a shower. However, cumulus clouds are not always found over parched areas.

"And we've been told by the agriculture department that to be of value to the crops we've got to produce two-thirds of an inch of rain at one time."

That amount of rain was produced by the rain-makers only twice in 57 trials.

Lightning Storms May Be Prevented By Seeding Clouds

VANCOUVER (AP)—It may be possible to prevent lightning storms by seeding clouds with dry ice, says L. O. Grant, one of several scientists who tried rain-making in Arizona last summer.

Seeding also can make it rain harder even if it can't actually start a rainstorm. Mr. Grant told the American Meteorological Society here Thursday.

Mr. Grant is a member of the American Institute of Aerological Research, Pasadena, Calif., which carried out the experiments.

The only kind of clouds worth seeding, Mr. Grant reported, are certain towering cumulus formations something like the great white, round thunderheads commonly seen in summer. They have to be at least 3,000 feet thick, containing 3 per cent moisture by volume and they must have a sub-freezing temperature.

CHANGES CLOUDS

Quick seeding of the top of a cumulus cloud sometimes produces no rain, but it can change the nature of the cloud and cause a build-up in neighboring clouds to the point where they may form raindrops.

When this happens, the top of the cloud turns into ice particles. The ice particles fall. The particles drop through the bottom of the cloud and disrupt the area where moisture from clear air is being condensed into cloud vapor.

This disturbs the bottom of the cloud line, where electrically-charged particles collect and sometimes produce lightning. A breaking up of collections of these charged particles may prevent the accumulation of the electrical energy which causes lightning flashes, Grant said.

There have been no direct anti-lightning experiments, he added. The effect is simply one to be expected when the bottom part of the cloud is broken up.

As seen through a telescope, Jupiter's outer surface is an amazingly detailed pattern of brown, green, red and grey clouds.

Canada No C-3 Nation, Says Navy Medical Director

SASKATOON (CP)—Canada's youth is not "down at the heels," nor is the Dominion a C-3 nation physically, the Canadian Medical Association was told today.

Surgeon Captain Archie McCallum, medical director-general of the Royal Canadian Navy, said "a bad piece of propaganda has been allowed to prevail" for nearly 10 years.

Early in the Second World War reports were published saying 46 per cent of armed forces inducted were unfit for category "A". Since that time the impression has spread that young Canadians "have gone to the dogs physically," Capt. McCallum said.

Because the rejection statistics were not adequately interpreted they had left "a feeling of uneasiness throughout the country which is unjustified," he said.

Many of the defects for which armed forces candidates were rejected were not related to health or longevity. "A man could live forever if he only had flat feet," he said. "Many defects were remediable, like hernia, hemorrhoids and varicose veins, which were correctable by surgery."

INTERPRETATIONS DIFFER

There were other causes for what appeared in abnormally high rejected rate. "One of the reasons was lack of medical officers to make a proper appraisal," the naval surgeon said.

Many doctors stuck strictly to regulations governing physical standards, and had preconceived ideas that regulations were inflexible. The regulations had not been brought up to date since the First World War, and the defence department had expected that doctors would use reasonable judgment, in interpreting them.

Some doctors stuck closely to regulations because of a "pension consciousness." It seemed to be the view that certain disabilities would become aggravated and become pensionable. So they rejected freely.

"Doctors seemed to think they were watchdogs of the treasury," he said.

"The heavy rejection for emotional instability may not have reflected a person's ability to measure up to his responsibility in time of national crisis."

"It might have been that some of those emotionally unstable would have found themselves under military training."

Seattle Man Given Noble Reception

SEATTLE (AP)—When Earl Kennell, Seattle photographer, visited Nice, France, recently he was received as the Earl of Kennell, addressed as "my lord" and had a British flag flying from a staff outside his hotel window.

In wiring for hotel reservations from London, he signed himself Earl Kennell. The enthusiastic hotel management assumed the "of" was missing and prepared its welcome accordingly. When Kennell explained the facts, everybody was quite put out.

He denied, however, that there was a band out to greet him, or that anyone from the British consul's office was standing by. But he wasn't put out.

Colwood To Vote On Water System Issue

COLWOOD—Purchase of the district water distribution system will be decided by ratepayers of the Colwood Fire Protection District, when they cast ballots at the Colwood Community Hall Saturday afternoon from 2 to 8.

The system has been offered to Colwood by the Greater Victoria Water Board for the sum of $24,100 to be repaid over a period of 14 years.

Present revenue from the system would net the district more than $2,000 a year, according to an estimate by water-board officials. Fire protection taxes would be reduced, they state, because if Colwood owned its own hydrants it would not have to pay the excessive rentals to the Victoria board.

PARALLEL MESSAGES

THE POINT OF VIEW EXPRESSED BY the majority of British Columbia voters on Wednesday finds an interesting parallel in a resolution approved by the International Chamber of Commerce convening this week in Quebec. While the citizens were endorsing private enterprise in this province, business leaders conferring in the capital of the Ancient Province were furnishing supporting argument for the course taken here. The resolution approving a code for fair treatment of foreign investments and for foreign enterprises noted: "If there is to be revival of private international investment on a scale sufficient to meet present-day needs, there must first be created a climate of confidence. The private investor is free to invest or not to invest as he pleases. If the conditions surrounding the investment are unattractive, he will simply refrain from putting up his money."

This statement, of course, specifically mentioned the field of foreign investment. The point on which it is predicated, however, applies with equal significance to the Canadian scene and most particularly to British Columbia. In this province there are innumerable opportunities for the application of capital to prudent undertakings of mutual benefit to the investor and the public at large. The slogan that "Business is Moving to B.C." contained truth only because business and capital have recognized the possibilities in our territory and have been given an earnest of a fair deal and stable government. The major projects already undertaken, coupled with those in prospect, obviously represent income to British Columbia through payrolls and new production.

The record of the Coalition government presents ample evidence of the administration's determination to avoid unbridled exploitation which would impoverish British Columbia to the advantage of finance capital only. On the other hand, as the electorate has proved so conclusively, the people recognize the requirements of big investors for stable conditions which permit them to make the necessary plans upon which to base their logical provisions for a safe and reasonable return on the money they put into the country. If stability and a fair deal, coupled with unquestioned opportunities, are the magnets that best draw capital, then the bright prospects of substantial outlays—such as those involved in the establishment of the aluminum industry—should be increased as a result of the people's decision this week.

NOW THE EXPLANATIONS

AMID THE POST-ELECTION COMMENTS which are the natural aftermath of the provincial campaign the remark of the national leader of the C.C.F., Mr. M. J. Coldwell, is typical of many voiced by supporters of his party. Said the Socialist leader in explanation of the marked C.C.F. defeat in this province: "It was obvious that the Coalition was well-equipped with financial support and publicity, both of which the C.C.F. lacked." It was only a few days ago that Mr. Coldwell was quoted in the press with an identical comment in regard to C.C.F. defeats in Nova Scotia. Is this, then, to be the complete answer to all polling results that do not measure up to personal expectations? Can the anti-C.C.F. landslide in the Atlantic and Pacific provinces be adequately explained on this simple basis?

Mr. Coldwell's complaint about lack of C.C.F. publicity carries little weight when viewed against the facts of experience. There can be no question in either Nova Scotia or British Columbia that the C.C.F. did not have an adequate opportunity to present its case to every eligible voter. If it becomes the losing side to take refuge in such an assertion. And as regards campaign financing, Mr. Coldwell is indulging in equally insupportable argument. Would he suggest that the C.C.F. victory in Saskatchewan in 1944 was the result of the expenditure of large sums of money? The argument obviously bounces back at him. The fact is that despite publicity, campaign funds and all the other paraphernalia of election contests, only one thing counts when the voter steps behind the poll curtain and takes the pencil in hand. Personal belief, without the need to explain or apologize, is then the only factor which carries weight—and the secret ballot ensures that the verdict will be recorded in truth and sincerity. It was not lack of "financial support and publicity" that defeated C.C.F. candidates in the provincial elections; it was lack of people who wanted to see them in power. No "explanations" can get around that fact.

THEY WERE NOT ALONE

MUCH OF THE EARLY POSTWAR strength of the French Communists was derived from the record of their members in the work of the resistance movement during the days of German occupation. None should wish to discredit the effective job they did. Heroism and daring were the hallmarks of those who operated for the underground, fighting the aggressor and the collaborator.

From the popular appreciation of their part in the battle for freedom, the extreme left of France reaped its harvest of credit. When, however, the demands of the Kremlin forced the Communists to action more in the interests of Russia than of France, their influence began to wane. At the last elections, their power was reduced by a realization on the part of French voters that the Reds had exploited their position to excess and that their devotion to France was not necessarily superior to their allegiance to a foreign power.

Now, reports from Paris state, the Communists have decided to "bar the way" to a ceremony on Saturday during which honor is to be accorded the forces of liberation by renaming the Avenue D'Orleans after Gen. Philippe Leclerc, whose Free French armored divisions entered Paris along that route on Aug. 24, 1944. Gen. Charles de Gaulle is scheduled to take part in that ceremony. His presence is not relished by the left extremists. They are opposed to him and the policies for which he stands. At the same time, Gen. de Gaulle did provide leadership for the resistance when men of many shades of political opinion made common cause of their fight against the Nazis. Is the Communist stand to be interpreted as an unwillingness on their part to share the honors of the resistance movement with others who shared with them the dangers of the fight? The gesture is one which could easily boomerang on the obstructionists. They do themselves and their recent comrades in arms no service by such an attitude.

TEMPERATURE RISING

OUR TWO EVENING CONTEMPORARIES in Vancouver, the Sun and the Province, seem to have had a competition in providing analysts for the provincial election returns. Each newspaper had arranged a corps of staff members to interpret for the people of the province the election results as they came in and to explain what their significance might be. In view of the fact that we are still old-fashioned enough to believe that the candidate who polls the most votes wins, we are somewhat at a loss to understand why it is necessary to explain any further.

Now, however, we discover that the Province and the Sun have become tangled up in a discussion about the merits and demerits of another analytic system—the Gallup Poll. The controversy seems to have had its origin in a statement by Mr. George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, in which he is presumed to have insinuated, after the poll showed a strong national swing to Liberalism, that—to quote the Sun's words—"someone corrupted the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion."

For our part, this newspaper discontinued the Gallup Poll reports more than two years ago because we were convinced that they were dogmatic in concept and unreliable as a true reflection of genuine public opinion, and that they were beginning to have an effect on a large segment of the public which militated against individual thinking.

It is not our desire or intention to belittle the work that, obviously enters into this method of sampling public opinion; but the frequent publication of a cross-section of current thought as reflected in an alleged distillate of general belief tends to detract from a desire on the part of the average individual to think for himself and himself and to reach personal decisions on matters of importance.

In view of the foregoing, therefore, it is especially interesting to observe Mr. Drew's insinuation—or so it would seem—that the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion has "doctored" its recent report on the political trend of the Canadian electorate. The Progressive Conservative leader in this case would appear to be like the man who blamed the thermometer, rather than the weather, when he observed the temperature going up. If Mr. Drew does not believe the poll he is at liberty to reject it, but he might better confine his criticism to matters of accuracy rather than morals. And it may be noted that when the poll last March showed a temporary swing in favor of the Progressive Conservatives, he issued no such accusations of tampering. Mr. Drew evidently would like a thermometer he could control—the weather being beyond his grasp.

HELP ASKED

ONLY ONCE SINCE THE VICTORIA organization was formed in 1912 have the local Girl Guides made a public appeal for financial assistance. In 1937 the purchase of a camp site at Sooke made it necessary for them to solicit funds. Tomorrow a second appeal, in the form of a tag day sponsored by the Independent Order of Foresters, will be made for an equally commendable project, the building of a Guide Hall to serve as headquarters in this area.

Those who know either directly or indirectly of the work of the Girl Guides will need no urging to donate to the cause. To others not so informed, we would point out that help for this very worthy movement—part of a world wide organization providing a feminized counterpart to the Boy Scouts—will be repaid many-fold in improved facilities for the training and instruction of many young girls in this community. Few appeals for public generosity can be better justified.

There are two methods of losing a bet. One is to bet on something where you haven't a "look-in," and the other is to bet on a "sure thing."

From Saigon, Indo-China

THE LAST CARD

THE DIFFERENCE between China and Indo-China can be simply stated. In China, a world disaster is entering its final phases, in an atmosphere of decay, disillusion and despair. But in Indo-China, a world catastrophe threatens, in an atmosphere that is all light-hearted charm.

The catastrophe that threatens here, of course, is the loss of the rest of Asia to the Soviet Union. Indo-China is the danger point, where what has happened in China may become a chain reaction. But here in Saigon, the first thing you notice is how well the French know how to live. It is only a good deal later that you remark how little the French know how to govern.

THE PLACE is wonderfully pretty, wonderfully agreeable and wonderfully unreal. The French colonial officials, who were Indo-China's only government for so long, have organized for themselves in Saigon every one of their favorite pleasures, from the most admirable food and the most exquisite parks, to the most interminable official forms which the humble applicant must fill out with due respect. The whole show is perfect in its way, and entirely convincing until you suddenly grasp the fundamental fact that Saigon is nothing but a charming concentration camp.

The trouble is the rebellion against French rule of Indo-China, which the Communist chieftain Ho Chi-minh and his Communist staff have been leading since the end of the Second World War. Any European or American venturing beyond the perimeters of the city (except by dubious courtesy of Air France) risks death. Even within the city, when night falls, one's sleep is apt to be disturbed by machine-gun and mortar firing or by the explosion of grenades, which the followers of Ho Chi-minh toss into restaurants and theatres with monotonous regularity.

SOMEHOW it is difficult to take all this seriously, perhaps because the French, who are really much more indifferent to personal danger than Englishmen and Americans, do not take it very seriously. Indeed, for most of them the little difficulties of life in Saigon apparently add a positive spice to existence. Yet the situation of the French in Saigon, and everywhere in Indo-China, is in truth serious enough, not only for the French but for the whole western world.

Militarily, as they delight to tell you themselves, the French in Indo-China in 1949 are in the same position as the Germans in France in the early summer of 1944. Like the Germans then, the French now hold, at least during the daytime, the larger towns—Saigon, Hanoi, Haiphong.

THEY ATTEMPT to hold certain main routes of communication, on which their convoys and trains are regularly blown up. They also hold without difficulty the racially distinct interior provinces of Laos and Cambodia and certain key points on the coast.

But for the rest, Viet Nam, the important coastal part of Indo-China, is already Ho Chi-minh's.

That the French have come to such a pass is, in the voluble opinion of virtually every Frenchman here, the fault of the French.

Viet Minh, Ho Chi-minh's resistance movement, is now owned heart and soul by the Communists. Yet the young men who blow up trains or toss grenades into cafes for Ho Chi-minh are not Marxists—they have not suddenly become converted to the theory of surplus value. They simply mean to have the right to make a mess of things in their own way.

EVERY intelligent Frenchman here will tell you that two years ago, even one year ago, the French should have offered them that right under an authentic, nationalist, non-Communist leadership. Then the French would have been able to retain every important commercial, cultural and political life, losing only the outer trappings of colonial rule. This is precisely what the French are now attempting to do, but everyone agrees that they are making the attempt very late.

Indo-China today is a sort of triple distilled object lesson in the near fatal weaknesses of the French system of government. All sorts of factors have operated to make the French position in Indo-China almost hopeless. But what is basically responsible is the internal division, the necessity for endless compromise, which is inherent in French government, and which makes any decisive action almost impossible.

NOW AT LAST the French are acting. They have proposed an independent government of Viet Nam, under the former Annamite monarch, Bao Dai, and they have promised Bao Dai more internal sovereignty than Ho Chi-minh himself ever demanded. The intention is, of course, to pare away from Ho Chi-minh all but a small hard core of convinced Stalinists, rallying the real nationalists around Bao Dai.

The French themselves say that in Bao Dai they are playing their last card. The card is being played with the Chinese Communists sweeping down toward the borders of Indo-China. Obviously much will depend on Bao Dai. A forthcoming report in this space will concern itself with the ability of the young monarch, and the assets which will still command in the forthcoming struggle for power in this key country of southeast Asia.

As Our Readers See It

A WORTHY CAUSE

May I, through the courtesy of your columns, enlist the sympathy of the public for a tag day which will be held on Saturday the 18th by the Independent Order of Foresters?

This order is most kindly sponsoring the efforts of the Girl Guides of Greater Victoria, Saanich and the outlying districts in their efforts to raise money for a Guide Hall, which would be used for training classes, meetings, etc.

The lack of an adequate headquarters is seriously handicapping all guide work, and while the Boy Scouts' Association have been generous in lending theirs, it cannot always be available when required, even for special events.

It has been arranged by the Dominion Council of the Girl Guides Association that official receipts for contributions to the building fund may be used for income tax purposes, and any such would be gratefully received by the I.O.O.F. at 745 Yates Street, or by the undersigned, a former provincial commissioner for B.C., and now a member of two sub-committees of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

Only once before have the local guides asked public support for a project; this was when they acquired a camp-site at Sooke in 1937.

A trust fund recently bequeathed to them will provide an income of approximately $300 a year when the estate is settled and with their own contributions should be sufficient for the maintenance of a hall, but they are unable to build it without aid.

Guiding was started in Victoria in 1912, and with the one exception previously mentioned has been self-supporting. In view of this record I earnestly beg that the present appeal may meet with a generous response.

TELEVISION

Mr. Gordon Ritz should know, but apparently does not, that ships at sea are not subject to local rules and regulations, but come under a code of marine laws, which are international.

Most electrical appliances mentioned by him do not interfere with television as far as is known. If we had not altered our laws throughout the centuries to meet requirements in an ever-changing world, we would still be floundering in the paleozoic slime.

All who think they are not allergic to radial blackouts might make a visit to Berlin and see what is happening there, especially on the Russian side of the fence.

I still maintain that, if we are to enjoy television, unimpeded and unrestricted use of certain electrical apparatus should be regulated.

Contrary to Mr. Ritz' idea, although not a bigot on the subject, I am definitely in sympathy with the worker, for I am a reluctant one myself. Perhaps as we proceed to mount the ladder of progress, we will eventually reach the highest rung, now occupied by the crystals, whose attitude towards labor leaves us almost breathless with admiration.

By the simple expedient of shedding both hands and feet, and going on a prolonged strike, he seems to have accomplished the impossible and found the solution to all labor problems, and so—hats off!

They Go Forth To Teach

DOWN THROUGH the centuries men have been compelled to evaluate the significance and purpose of their own lives. Picture for a moment with me a man in a dull, dingy Roman cell. This man is not a base, ruddy fellow, but rather one who has been trained in the finest educational centre of his day, a man of remarkable gift and genius. He surveys a life of hardship employed in the proclamation of a message of dynamic power to the world of his day. He is a rare man—a scholar and a man of action at the same time. He is a man who has poured out his life in sacrificial service to his fellows. Because of the character of his service Paul is able to say, though in a Roman prison, "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith."

FUTURE OF SERVICE
Tonight, unlike Paul, we are not looking back upon a life of service but rather forward to such a life. To render the maximum degree of service to his community it is necessary that a teacher have a rich background of skills and understandings. In contemplating the activities of the past year we may see the way in which we have been prepared for such a service. We have participated in a very full and diversified program—a program which has given due emphasis to the academic, social, and practical phases of personal development. Because of this diversity the program, doubtless, has its own peculiar significance to each one of us. Our program has included training in drama, art, music, art, letics, principles of education, methods in teaching the various subjects, and teaching practicum.

Reproduced here is the valedictory address given by Robert Hampton, Denton Memorial Award winner, at the graduation dinner of the Provincial Normal School, Victoria, this week.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The privilege of participating in such a well-rounded program has brought with it responsibilities and with the assuming of these responsibilities there has been evident individual growth. In comparison with the teeming numbers to be found at colleges and universities throughout the country our numbers have been fortunately few. I say fortunate because this has made it possible for an attitude of personal friendship to prevail between the faculty and ourselves.

Now that we are about to enter a profession that has for its purpose the molding of character while it is still in the impressionable stage, it is somewhat frightening to think of the good or evil that may issue from both our words and our actions. In view of such a tremendous task, a task greater than any one of us, any sense of having attained or of youthful pride is wholly out of place. It has been truly said that no teacher can be competent without an ardent desire to grow both personally and professionally. We have been given an excellent start, which means a great deal, but it is essential that we go on if we are in any measure to realize the aims of the teaching profession.

CHARACTER

We must be prepared to accept new ideas when proven better than our own—this means we must think. We must recognize that our deeds speak far louder than our words—this points to the necessity of real character. We must realize that there will be problems and difficulties, and that these are to be overcome—this means that we must have strength of purpose. We must also be prepared to work and that right hard. Let us go on then in thinking, in character, in purpose, and in work and we shall be able to say that "we have kept the faith"—good faith in our pupils, in ourselves, in our faculty, and in our profession. I believe that I express the sentiment of each member of the graduating class when I say that it is our earnest desire to go on in those things that will make our service of lasting value to our pupils and thus to our society.

An 'Ace'

Edmonton Journal
Canada had an "ace in the hole" in the recent Canadian-American bargaining that resulted in the bilateral agreement so beneficial to Edmonton. The Dominion's ace was Gander, Newfoundland, one of the busiest international airports in the world.

The Dominion's acquirement of Gander in the April 1 union gave this country probably the strongest bargaining position she ever has enjoyed in international aviation. The results were apparent in the bilateral agreement. The Dominion certainly didn't come off second best in the transaction.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

OUT of mystic India comes a story so strange that it reads like fantasy. Attention is called to it here because it epitomizes a situation which I believe will play a vital part in the great war of the ideologies developing in the Orient.

On July 1 the old and princely state of Travancore will combine with the adjoining principality of Cochin and the 36-year-old Maharajah of Travancore will become titular head. He will be responsible to the new government of India.

The strange part is this: For 200 years the real ruler of Travancore has been the Hindu god Padmanabha, and the maharajahs have acted as stewards of the deity. The princes have sworn allegiance only to the god, and every night have deposited the keys of the state treasury at the god's feet in token of this, picking the keys up in the morning.

It took the Indian government about a year to persuade the present maharajah to change the status of his state. He was fearful that he would be committing blasphemy if he swore allegiance to the Indian constitution or agreed to alter the boundaries of his state.

MOVE SINCERE

The skeptical reader may say that the prince was merely stalling to avoid changing the status of his state. However, your columnist accepts the prince's explanation as sincere, having spent much time in India and knowing how intensely religious both the Hindus and the Moslems are.

Religion plays a major part in the lives of both Hindus and Moslems. It is not only spiritual but in many respects dominates the ordinary ways of daily life. There are few atheists in the Far East.

COMBAT COMMUNISM?

And how does this fit into the war of the ideologies? Well, Moscow is increasingly shifting to the Orient the weight of its world revolution for the spread of Communism. A vital part of the Red offensive is its attack on religion, which is obstructive to the Communist movement.

Recent reports have said the Russians have been conducting a campaign against Jews and Zionism inside the Soviet Union. And a few days ago in Cairo a Moslem religious leader from Turkistan, in Soviet-Central Asia, charged that Russia has been conducting an anti-Moslem purge ever since the end of the war. He charged that in the Middle Asia areas of the Soviet Union there are virtually "no Moslem inhabitants left."

MANY RELIGIONS

Of course the Hindu and Moslem religions are far from being the only ones in the Orient. But one and all they probably represent Communism's toughest enemy.

Just how this will work out in China remains to be seen. Perhaps the religious resistance there won't be so strong as in many other countries, because a large percentage of Chinese subscribe to ancestor worship. Buddhism is the dominant religion, but there are some 48,000,000 Moslems and several million Christians, all of whom may be expected to battle for their faiths.

In any event, it will be an epochal fight.

PLEASE REPEAT

T.D.F. in the Ottawa Citizen
Brantford Expositor mentions "a prime minister of French descent, speaking with a suggestion of the Irish brogue and being piped in to the heavenly music of the Scots to address a Canadian audience." How's that again about the music?

OFF THE ROAD

Montreal Star
A short time ago when an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act made it obligatory for judges to order the cancellation of licenses of drivers found guilty of drunken or reckless driving, we ventured the opinion that the stiffening up of the penalties against these public menaces would be all to the good.

Judging from news columns, it will be. Every day bad drivers are being put off the road. The other day one court suspended four licenses for three months, sent one man to jail and fined the other three. It will be surprising if this additional penalty does not have at least some effect on the accident rate.

Teachers Welcome Mayor's Support On Election Issue

Mayor Percy George's stand on the question of school teachers being allowed to run for municipal office was greeted by the consultative committee of the B.C. Teachers' Federation at a meeting recently in Vancouver.

This was reported today by Christine MacNab of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Federation, who said Mayor George's whole-hearted endorsement of the teachers' long fight for the right to hold office on city and municipal councils received words of deep appreciation.

Resolutions supporting the teachers will be presented at the annual convention here in September of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, and H. D. Dee, president-elect of the Victoria association, said:

"Prospects for favorable consideration of our requests are bright this year. We have waited a long time for this democratic right. With the safeguards we propose we are sure the U.B.C.M. delegates will at last consider our requests favorably."

The B.C.T.F. will be represented at the Canadian Teachers' Federation convention at Ottawa in August by T. M. Chalmers, past president; Mr. Dee, D. G. Chamberlain, first vice-president, and C. D. Ovens, general secretary.

Federal aid for education will be the chief topic of discussion at this convention.

Miners in Australia Threaten Coal Strike

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Miners are threatening a strike which could bring Australia's coal industry to a standstill within three days.

Stop-work meetings were held Thursday despite a ban by the Australian Coal Industry Tribunal, which followed a breakdown in negotiations for a raise of 30 shillings (Australian) ($5) a week; a 35-hour week and long-service leave.

20,000 I.W.A. Men Start Negotiating With B.C. Operators

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wages and hours negotiations between 200 operators and approximately 20,000 British Columbia lumber workers opened here Thursday.

Main demands of the members of the International Woodworkers of America—are a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost, a union shop, reduction of board rates and a revision of the hours of work.

The hours of work revision asked is for a Monday-to-Friday work week with time-and-a-half for Saturdays and Sundays.

"The men are determined to get the union shop," Stewart Alsbury, district union president, said. "And we are determined to get a reduction in board rates."

The workers are asking a reduction of board rates from $2.50 a day to $1.50.

Stresses Proper Use Of Land Basis Of Prosperity

"It is time to acknowledge that we abuse the land," Dr. David B. Turner of the Department of Lands of the B.C. government said in an address to members of the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel Thursday.

Speaking on "Proper Land Use," Dr. Turner explained how during the last 20 years, the population of the world had increased by 200,000,000 while at the same time, the productive soil remained at a standstill.

"Productive land is extremely limited today," he said. "History has shown that as man's occupancy of the land goes, so goes civilization. Two good examples of this today are the Holy Land, which has almost gone to wrack and ruin and France which is now a good productive area."

"Proper use of the land is the fundamental basis of prosperity," he stated.

Dr. Turner said that the main purpose of the Department of Lands was to assess the land of the province and determine what the various areas were best suited to. The department could furnish direct information to new settlers on the productive advantages of each district in B.C., he said.

St. Laurent Says Tories In Vain Look For Great Support In Quebec

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Thursday night the Progressive Conservatives could only win the federal election with "overwhelming support" from Quebec and predicted that that overwhelming support will be given instead to the Liberals.

In a half-hour transcribed address delivered over the CBC national network, Mr. St. Laurent said, too, that "a lot of good Liberals in Ontario expect . . . to make substantial gains" in that province as well.

With those statements, he bulwarked reiteration of his argument that only the Liberals are capable of winning enough seats to form a majority government.

Mr. St. Laurent said the Progressive Conservatives "are concentrating on finding any kind of support they can get in Quebec" because of its importance to them. Without its support, they would have to win seven out of every 10 ridings elsewhere.

" . . . it would be a healthy thing for Canada if all our political parties would appeal to the people of Quebec with the same program and the same policies they are advocating in the other provinces."

UNION NATIONALE

J. M. Macdonnell, chairman of the Conservative Party Association, had identified the Conservative Party with the Union Nationale Party in Quebec. Mr. St. Laurent wondered if Mr. Macdonnell considered the Union Nationale "merely the old Conservative Party with a new name" when in 1939 its Premier Duplessis "called a provincial election on the issue of Canada's participation in the war."

He quoted newspapers with Conservative leanings in attacks on Mr. Duplessis at that time.

Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative candidate in Toronto-Eglinton, also had told a Rimouski, Que., audience that "Mr. St. Laurent already has declared to the Commons that French could be abolished by a simple majority of the House . . . that is the man . . . who wished to make the French language disappear from the country."

HISTORIC RIGHTS

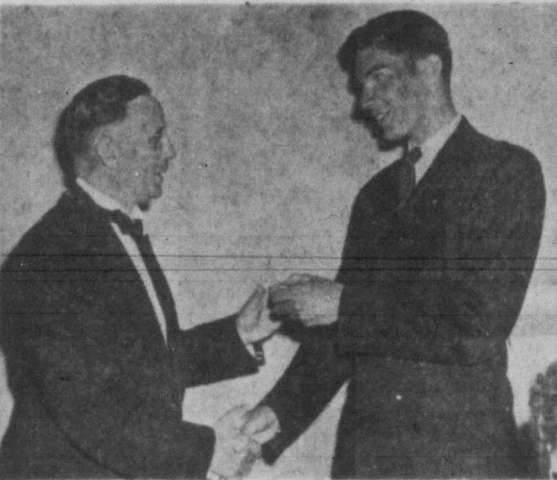

Mr. St. Laurent said: "Mr. Fleming knows perfectly well that I do not wish the French—or the English language—to disappear; he also knows perfectly well that I have repeatedly expressed the view that the overwhelming majority of Canadians have such a sense of justice and fair dealing that no majority in any parliament would ever dare touch the historic rights of French-speaking or English-speaking Canadians."

The Liberals favored "the most rigid constitutional safeguards" of minority rights.

Saanich Enforces Traffic Laws; Fines Total $505

A good indication that Saanich police are enforcing the traffic laws, was shown in the municipal police court Thursday afternoon when erring motorists paid a total of $505 in fines. It was a record for a single court session revenue in traffic penalties.

Seven motorists paid the largest share of the total when they pleaded guilty or were convicted on dangerous or careless driving charges. Ten motorists paid $15 each for speeding in the $200 collection for more minor offences.

Carl O. Wright, 837 W. 7th Avenue, Vancouver, pleaded guilty to careless driving and was fined $35. He was involved in a collision at Burnside and Harriet Roads with a truck driven by William Bridgewood, 3236 Seaton Road, June 15. Bridgewood's truck was overturned by the impact.

In addition to a $40 fine, a one-month license suspension was imposed against Charles H. Groth, 3140 Esson Road. He admitted his guilt to a dangerous driving charge.

Theodore A. Martin, 68 Burnside Road, admitted his guilt to careless driving on West Saanich Road June 11. He was fined $35. He was in collision with a sign at Keating Cross Road.

A fine of $35 was levied against Norris Harwood, 2662 Fernwood Road. He pleaded guilty to careless driving on Gorge Road on June 12. The magistrate ordered Harwood's license to be surrendered and said he would send a report on the accident to the motor vehicle branch.

INJURY CASE

George J. Flinn, 1425 Elford Street, was fined $50 and his license was suspended for two months. Magistrate Hall found him guilty on a charge of dangerous driving laid last Dec. 26 following an accident on Cedar Hill Road south of Derby Street.

Evidence in the trial last week was that his car struck Mrs. H. F. Hunt, 3404 Doncaster Road, shortly after she had alighted from a bus. Mrs. Hunt was sent to hospital suffering from multiple fractures.

Alan F. Barraclough, Dunster-ville Road, was fined $40 on two charges, careless driving and not having a current driver's license. He was in collision with a car driven by Vernon C. Jones on Marigold Avenue May 22. Similar charge against Jones was dismissed.

A fine of $40 was imposed against Robert J. Brotherton, 1050 Falmouth Road. He was found guilty on a charge of dangerous driving. Charge arose

June 9 when Constable John Burnett said accused passed him at a high rate of speed on a double-lined Gorge Road Hill, driving for one month.

A number of Shelbourne Street housewives testified that John Dalby, 1679 Kisher Avenue, was speeding past their homes. He pleaded not guilty to careless driving, but was found guilty and fined $35.

Charge of careless driving against Norman E. Sallis, H.M. C.S. Ontario, was dismissed. He was involved in an accident with motorcyclist Thomas Clegg, 1871 Neil Street, June 6, at Richmond Avenue and Townley Street. Sallis was injured.

Over-all Majority Of 275 For Beard

Cmdr. C. T. Beard, the Coalition candidate in Esquimalt, received 3,900 votes compared to 3,625 for his four opponents in the Wednesday provincial general election, it was reported today.

The result of balloting in two of the 28 polls was not available until late Thursday.

Harry Webber, the C.C.F. candidate, received 2,301 votes, to place second, while E. V. Finland, Conservative, placed third with 1,110 votes. Trailing were G. E. Bonner, Independent, with 142 votes, and Mrs. Ellen Hart, Union of Electors, with 74 votes.

A PIPER IN THE AIR FORCE—L.A.C. A. R. Mitchell of Victoria, stationed at Rockcliffe air station, near Ottawa, likes the air force and he likes bagpipes, too. So he organized a volunteer pipe band at Rockcliffe, the only one in the regular R.C.A.F. The band made its first appearance before the general public on Air Force Day last Saturday. He is shown here with his pipes. A veteran of 12 years piping experience, Mitchell instructed most of the pipers in the band, the majority of whom had no previous experience before the band was formed last winter. (R.C.A.F. Photo.)

Free Gold Sales Plan Of P.C.'s Impractical, Abbott Declares

By CANADIAN PRESS STAFF WRITER

Finance Minister Abbott says he's still against allowing mines to sell their gold on the so-called free world market.

He told a political rally in Montreal Thursday night that Progressive Conservative proposals for the establishment of a free gold market are impractical. The free market could not absorb all of Canada's output and she would be faced with the problem of disposing of the remainder.

As the federal election campaign moved towards the June 27 voting date, 10 days away, party leaders continued their drive for ballots in widely-separate sections of the country.

Prime Minister St. Laurent moved into the Quebec countryside, at Valleyfield, while George Drew rolled through western Ontario to the big industrial city of Windsor. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, addressed a meeting in Edmonton.

SHARED BY ALL

Mr. St. Laurent said the Liberal Party wants to "stimulate the distribution of Canada's bounty to all the people and not exclusively to any one class or group." Canada's prosperity came not from "a policy of promises," but from "a policy of realization."

Mr. Drew told an audience at Chatham, Ont., that Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland had made a "cold blooded threat" to the electors of new province when he reportedly said electors of Ferryland riding would not receive "one red cent" if they did not vote Liberal.

Mr. Drew again challenged Mr. St. Laurent to repudiate Mr. Smallwood's reported statement. Mr. Coldwell, at Edmonton, promised a C.C.F. government speaking at Port Colborne, Ont., criticized the Liberal government's offer of aid to municipalities for low-rental housing, and said it is "entirely inadequate."

Defence Minister Claxton, in a broadcast address at Montreal, also touched on housing and said the Liberals are ready to solve the low-rent housing problem. They would do that by co-operating with the provincial and municipal governments.

Candidate Wants Controls Put On Gangster Movies

Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive-Conservative candidate for Victoria, Thursday blamed a gangster movie for the suicide of a youth in Victoria and for the attempted suicide of another boy.

Speaking at a political rally at North Ward School, Mr. Cameron in criticising the lack of action on the part of the Liberal government to ban salacious literature and sordid gangster moving pictures in Canada said a movie shown here led a boy to hang himself in a closet recently.

He also said a boy who saw the same movie attempted to hang himself at the back of a church in Victoria.

FILM HANGINGS

"This movie showed several people being hanged," said Mr. Cameron. "The movie resulted in a boy hanging himself in a closet and an attempt by another boy to hang himself at the back of a church. He was taken down just in time."

The candidate pledged himself to support the movement to ban salacious literature in Canada.

"The Dominion government has been asked to ban sordid comic books on several occasions," he said. "It has done nothing about it. I can assure you that something will be done about it if the Progressive Conservatives are elected. It is about time something was done."

Mr. Cameron also said Victoria was losing its navy due to the Liberal administration.

He said 500 service men were being moved from Esquimalt to Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, as a "Maritime election bribe."

"The navy is important to the trade and business of Esquimalt," he said. "These men are being moved despite the fact that Victoria has a member who is a cabinet minister."

CROWN LAND TAXES

Mr. Cameron said if the Progressive Conservatives were elected the government would pay taxes on Crown lands. He said it was unfair for the Crown to be a large landowner in a municipality like Esquimalt and not to pay taxes.

He said the Liberal government had done nothing for Victoria.

"It has promised us a post office," someone shouted at the speaker.

Mr. Cameron replied that the post office was promised in 1938.

"I know it will be said that the war prevented the building of the building," stated the speaker, "but I say this, if Vancouver had wanted a post office it would have been built during the war."

He said Progressive Conservatives had pledged themselves to institute a contributory social security program and retirement pensions at 65 without a means test.

Speaking in support of Mr. Cameron was Rupert Ramsay, Progressive Conservative leader in Saskatchewan between 1944-48.

Mr. Ramsay charged the Liberal government was running the government by orders-in-council and by bureaucratic boards.

He said there was a movement in Canada which was trying to substitute law for conscience. He thought this unfortunate because it denied the individual to do what he pleased.

"While admitting that the socialist doctrine had many good points, he said, it was impractical because they could not be enforced except by compulsion. "You can't legislate happiness," he said.

He claimed the Liberal party, like the C.C.F., were attempting to establish a centralized government. "Didn't Mr. St. Laurent say the socialists are only Liberals in a hurry?" asked the speaker.

VETERANS' PROBLEMS
E. W. Jones, commissioner, also addressed the meeting on veterans' problems. He said the same veterans' benefits should be extended to the merchant marine if Progressive Conservatives were elected.

The speaker charged certain businessmen with "corruption and graft" while thousands of Canadians were fighting the war.

He said Progressive Conservatives would establish that a service person's medical category as recorded at the time of enlistment be accepted as accurate and final. He said under the present system in the case of any veteran who fell ill after discharge, the sickness was regarded as a pre-enlistment condition.

P. M. McKinnon was chairman at the meeting.

Special Trophies At Flower Show

The annual Summer Flower Show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will open next Wednesday afternoon, at 1, in the Crystal Garden. Special displays of roses and begonias will be an outstanding feature of the show, together with fine exhibits of other summer blooms.

Special trophies include the R. A. Nicholson Trophy, for the best amateur exhibit; the Naysmith Challenge Cup, to be awarded to the winner of the highest total value in prizes, and the Aggregate Trophy for the show. On Thursday morning the show will open at 10.

Fresh green beans which are now in season add a summer touch to your menus. In buying them select those which have clean, firm, crisp pods that are tender enough to snap readily when broken. Green beans are an excellent source of vitamin A.

Garden Party Assists Guides' Building Fund

A sum of more than $300 was realized at the garden party held last Saturday at "Wilmot House," the home of Maj. and Mrs. Keith MacDougall, under the auspices of the East District Girl Guide Local Association. It is planned to present part of these proceeds to the divisional headquarters fund.

Mrs. Charles A. Banks, who opened the affair, was met at the gate by Divisional Commissioner Mrs. F. W. Midgley, and escorted up the driveway through a guard of honor formed by guides and brownies. Two small brownies, Janie Matthews and Jean Bartholomew, presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

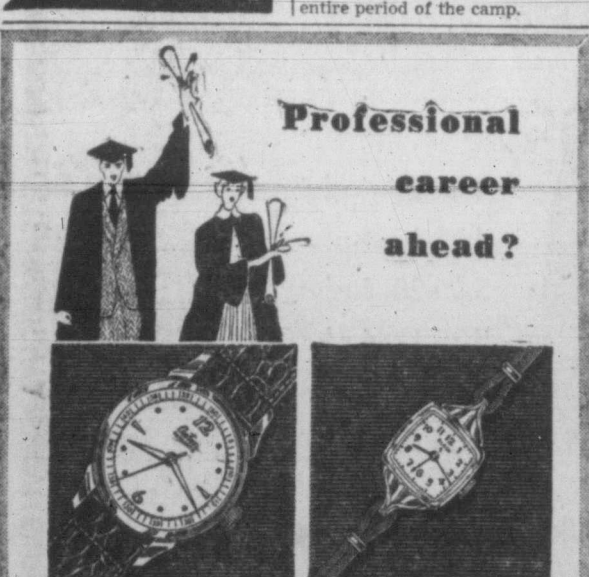

All entertainments were well attended, the pony ride being especially popular with the children. During the afternoon, Sheila Johnson was presented with her gold cords.

Alaska Cruise Honeymoon For Thompson-Robb Newlyweds

A honeymoon trip to Alaska aboard the S. Prince George is planned by the principals in a wedding at noon today in Christ Church Cathedral.

The newlyweds are Miss Elinor Mary Robb, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Robb, and granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Robb, Hollyburn, B.C., and William Thompson, Superior Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, Jacksonville, Gooch, Yorksire, England.

The young couple will make their home at 630 Superior Street, on their return.

The bride's uncle, Peter Robb, came from Vancouver to give his niece in marriage. Canon Michael Coleman officiated.

Soft candlelight satin fashioned the bridal gown the slender bride topped with net yoke in off-shoulder mode and edged in satin rosettes. Lace panels enriched the loosely gathered skirt, and train, and the peplum emphasizing the lowered waistline was of similar lace.

The eggshell net chapel veil embroidered at the scalloped edges, was held by a Juliet cap beaded with pearls.

Red roses, creamy gladioli and larkspur were in the bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Mann of Vancouver, cousin of the bride. Her gown of turquoise lace and net was in off-shoulder mode, and she wore turquoise mitts and carried Pincchio roses and gladioli to match the blossoms in her bandeau.

Miss Sharon Watson of Nanaimo, -bridesmaid for her cousin, wore a similar ensemble in tones of shell pink.

Flower girl, little Merrill Mann, frocked in primrose yellow taffeta and net, carried a dainty basket of carnations, sweet peas and violets.

Cedric Robb was best man for his sister's groom, Leonard Hamilton, and Archie Semple, Nanaimo, were ushers. Richard T. Bevan was organist.

A reception followed at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Butterfield, Richmond Avenue, where the bride's grandmother assisted the hostess in receiving guests. Rooms were decorated with fragrant masses of summer flowers. The three-tier wedding cake was the centre-piece for the flower decked table.

Richard Tully of Vancouver proposed the bride's toast.

The bride's traveling ensemble include a pink gabardine suit, white off-face glazed straw hat with pink rose trim, and white accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias and violas.

It's Summer—But Clothes Designers Show Fall Wear

MONTREAL (CP)—Clothing manufacturers and designers are showing what they are—always ahead of the girls—the new duds being shown during Montreal's fashion week have to do with autumn-winter wear despite the current heat wave. The tip is some features aren't so different from the late 20's.

For one thing there is the cloche.

Fashion writers reported today it is not as "clochey" as it was in the late 20's but it's unmistakably a bell-like topper and along with it came a camelhair coat.

The duster coat was another oldtimer brought out in refurbished form as compared with the horseless carriage days.

Some collar treatments appeared to have come right out of the old picture frames, bonnets with ties under the chin and all sorts of pretty lady touches found in the tinsy era.

One fashion writer reported: "Fashions are gayer than for years, more wearable, more versatile," which is about what was said during last year's Montreal fashion industries show. Still there was plenty to attract attention.

Fall rainwear features fallies, gabardines, corduroys and satins in glowing colors. Fall shades of white, green, red, brown and gold will be worn then, along with navy, grey, beige and black.

The large cover-up hood has one innovation—a link-button treatment just above the collar which eliminates the "slipping" problem of the full-draped hood.

The evening scene, according to the forecasts, is much a case of imported fabrics from France with a lot of lace, satin and metallics while velvet gets a play in wear for all hours of the day.

Christening in St. George's, Cadboro Bay

All-Day Wear Fashion Feature

MONTREAL (CP)—"Round-the-clock" dresses and suits that can be worn to the office, on the street or at a cocktail party after five were shown Monday when fashion week in Montreal opened with a breakfast preview of fall creations.

The collection of a Montreal designer (Lawrence Spier) featured afternoon and cocktail dresses and suits appropriate for any occasion. Part of the collection will be shown in Paris next month using French textiles to show Frenchmen what Canada can do with French materials and Canadian styles.

Fabrics in the breakfast show included rustling taffetas, reversible charmeuse satins, velvets and hand-painted chintilly lace worn over layers of satin.

Colors included rich autumn tones—carmine brown and sulphur yellow. The latter was found in an evening coat of wool with black satin lining over a decolette black satin evening gown. The whole ensemble was called "grand ball."

Afternoon dresses were mid-calf length; cocktail dresses from 13 inches down to ankle length, depending on the time of day they are worn.

Sculpture—Her Hobby

WASHINGTON (CP)—Sculpture is the hobby of Mrs. Charles R. Howell, wife of the Democratic Congressman from New Jersey—and her work is good enough to be on display at Washington's Amateur Art Show.

But Mrs. Howell laughingly depreciates her artistic abilities. "I did a bust of my husband with a pained expression," she says. "The pained expression that he wore all the time he posed is the only true-to-life thing about it!"

A Danish postmaster, Einer Holboell, conceived the idea of the Christmas tuberculosis seal.

Wind Tossed—A boisterous and unruly wind almost completely spoiled the well arranged tea sponsored by the Ladies' Guild of St. George's Church, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Major and Mrs. David W. McKean. Members of the committee in charge carried on with the original plans, however, and have announced that sum of $106 has been added to the building fund.

Thanks for Roses—St. David's Women's Guild met at the home of Mrs. C. B. Price, Victoria Avenue, with Mrs. K. M. Lewis presiding. The secretary, Mrs. B. J. Dyers, read a letter of thanks from Mrs. W. J. Meacock for hothouse roses received from St. David's-by-the-Sea at the recent celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Meacock's golden wedding anniversary. It was decided to have a garden tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer, "The Lookout," Cordova Bay Road, on July 12. Mrs. Price served tea, assisted by Mrs. J. Walker and Mrs. Dyer.

Flags for School—Educational secretary, Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, reported at the meeting of Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.G.E., held at headquarters that 33 small flags had been sent to the adopted school for the pupils with a photo of the King and Queen for the schoolroom, and a prize for the student holding the highest marks in Canadian history. Mrs. Theo Clarke presided. It was reported parcels to the value of $15.59 had been sent overseas and a further donation of $10 was sent to the Children's Ward at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Mrs. Clarke gave her delegate's report of the national convention and announcement was made that the next sewing meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Beverley Smith 2616 Cadboro Bay Road, at June 23 at 8 p.m.

Penny Frolic—Final plans were made and committees named at the regular meeting of the Patricians, Centennial United Church, for a Penny Frolic for Sept. 23 in the church hall. There will be no further meetings of the group during the summer but a sewing group will meet next Wednesday. Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. A. Ashford, assisted by Mrs. F. Potts and Mrs. P. Kidson.

Donate Radio—It was reported that a new radio and curtains had been donated to the local hospital by members of the South Salt Spring Island Women's Institute at a recent meeting held at the home of the president, Mrs. A. Davis, Fulford Harbor. Proceeds of the May 24 celebrations amounted to $600, and half of the amount was turned over to the hall trustees, and the remaining $300 was also turned back for improvements for the building. Arrangements were made for a basket picnic on Aug. 7, at Fulford Beach, and a tea and sale of work at the home of Mrs. J. French on June 29. Next meeting will be in September. Tea was served by the hostess.

Plan Many Stalls—Arrangements were made for the garden party to be held in the Bishop's garden on July 6, when members of Christ Church Cathedral Women's Parish Guild met in Memorial Hall, with Miss K. Jaffray, president, in the chair. Fancywork, aprons and woolies will be conveyed by Mrs. J. F. K. English and her sewing committee; Mrs. A. Mayfield will convene home cooking, and Mrs. A. K. Parmiter will be in charge of afternoon tea in the auditorium. Superfluities will be conveyed by Mrs. A. E. Greenwood, Treasurer. Mrs. F. M. Atkinson reported a cash balance of $49.98 and synd luncheon receipts were $62.75. Expenses were $73.92. Sewing committee will meet in the guild room each Friday from 2 to 3.

Today's Recipe

LUNCHEON FISH LOAF

Two eggs, 2 cups flaked, cooked fish (approximately 1 pound), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 cups milk, 1 1/2 cups rolled oats, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Beat eggs slightly and combine with remaining ingredients. Place in greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350-375 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours, or until loaf is set. Serve with mushroom sauce, tomato sauce, or a cream sauce with 1 chopped, hard-cooked egg added.

Harbor House Fete—Final arrangements for the annual garden fete to be held at Harbor House, Aug. 3, were made at a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to St. George's Church, held in the parish room, Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island. The following stall holders were elected: Mrs. W. Norton, Mrs. S. Bannister and Mrs. H. Price, dordas; Mrs. E. Adams and Mrs. F. Sharpe, home produce; Mrs. W. Hele and Mrs. C. Fletcher, miscellaneous; Mrs. J. Byron and Mrs. H. Croft, plants and flowers; Mrs. G. Taylor, ice cream and soft drinks. It was decided to have the steps of St. Mark's Church painted. Mrs. F. Sharpe served tea.

The secret of cooking all good omelets is to cook them slowly. A puffy omelet becomes a glamorous breakfast entree if you spread it with seasoned mashed calavo before folding it over. Be sure the calavo is buttery soft before using.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

CHILD'S APPETITE SLACKENS DURING SECOND YEAR

The small child, busy running hither and yon all of his waking hours, does not have an appetite which keeps pace with his activities. Up to about nine months of age he may be a voracious eater. Then the appetite slackens and by the time he is two, or thereabouts, he can eat only about half as much as he did the first year.

This is all a part of nature's plan. Whereas the baby gained at least fourteen pounds from birth to one year, the gain from 12 to 24 months is seldom over six pounds. Obviously, it would not be possible, nor would it be necessary for the child to consume as much food.

Mrs. F. J. feels sure that her 2-year-old child is not getting enough to eat. "At some meals he just picks at his food and eats not more than a teaspoonful of each food that is served. At others he will clean up all I put on his plate."

"Also it seems to me that his appetite for the different foods is extremely variable. There are weeks when I cannot get him to eat a spoonful of cereal. It is the same with vegetables. Then when he gets over this distaste he eats both of them in large quantities. Is this same true of all children?"

"Someone suggested that when he refuses the cereal I mix it with his other foods. Also the vegetables? Do you think that is a good idea?"

Since it is apparent, from what you say, that inevitably the child balances his own diet by eating these foods in abundance, after the periods of refusal, it would seem better to allow him that privilege.

Some children balance their diets by the day, eating all of one kind of food at a meal and then refusing it all at others. One of my very small friends eats only vegetables at noon and will have none of them at any other meal.

The mother who keeps the general food pattern in mind and knows which foods are protein, which carbohydrates and which minerals and fats, will be able to determine whether her child's whole diet, through the day, the weeks and the months, is a balanced one.

As for the amounts of these foods the child eats, they, too, will vary. So long as the child stays well and keeps gaining normally, there should be no cause to worry even if the amounts seem low.

Our leaflet No. 26 "Diet From One to Two Years," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Sufficient Beds Foreseen For Health Scheme By 1953

The current shortage of hospital beds which is holding up the introduction of national hospitalization and health insurance will be met with in three or four years, Tom Reid, parliamentary assistant to National Health and Welfare Minister Paul Martin, said here Thursday night.

Mr. Reid, who is seeking re-election in New Westminster, spoke at the opening of Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew's election campaign. The meeting, which had been preceded by an earlier talk by Mr. Mayhew at the Veterans' Hospital, was held in the Oak Bay High School auditorium.

At the present time, Mr. Reid said, Canada was not yet ready for an all-out health scheme. He mentioned a shortage of doctors, dentists and nurses, as well as a lack of 60,000 hospital beds.

He said the national health department believed the hospital bed shortage would be met in three or four years. Since the introduction of federal health grants of $30,000,000 per year to aid the provinces in improvement of their health services, assistance had been given in the completion of accommodation providing 13,000 hospital beds throughout the nation, he said.

Mr. Reid mentioned the health grants in attempting to refute charges of George Drew, national Progressive Conservative leader, that the Dominion government was taking from British Columbia $7 for every $1 it returned.

"The people of British Columbia are not being robbed," he said.

MORE PAID THAN COLLECTED

While the Dominion government last year had extracted a total of $187,000,000 from British Columbia in all types of taxes and levies, it had spent in this province no less than $210,000,000, he said, including $19,000,000 in direct grants, $20,000,000 in family allowances, $40,000,000 in interest on bonds and $59,000,000 in public works.

"Our way of life is to take from those who have and give to those who have not," he said. "I think you will agree with me that the nation is better for it."

Mr. Reid also criticized Mr. Drew's federal policies, claiming that they would cost more to implement than the entire sum paid in income tax by Canadians, and said that if Mr. Drew's proposals to the Dominion-Provincial conferences in 1945 and 1946 had been adopted Ontario would have received $50,000,000 more than all the other provinces of Canada together.

While Ontario when Mr. Drew was premier had increased the old-age pension bonus from $3 to $10, by introducing a means test the sums actually paid in the bonus were reduced from $2,422,000 to $415,000 annually, he said.

Mr. Mayhew said he hoped to see completed several projects in this area which he had initiated but which had been postponed because of the war.

Lashing back at charges by his Progressive Conservative opponent, Gordon A. Cameron, that the proposed post office for Victoria was a $2,000,000 election bribe, Mr. Mayhew explained how the project had been delayed by the war and shortages of materials since the war.

"The tenders were out before the election date was set," he said. "Before I knew the election date."

He said the building would

Veterans' Hospital Auditorium, Chapel Planned—Mayhew

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew announced here Thursday preliminary approval had been given for the construction of an auditorium and chapel at the Veterans' Hospital here.

His announcement came during an election address at the hospital.

He said the auditorium and chapel project had been approved in principle by Veterans' Minister Gregg but the plans had not yet been drawn up, nor approved by the government. It is expected that the building will be erected to the rear of the main hospital building.

Mr. Mayhew also reported that the final plans for a 63-bed addition to the hospital had been approved. While at first it was proposed to erect an addition to the present building the final plans called for a separate building to be attached to the main hospital by a passageway.

The addition will be designed to accommodate Class 8 patients—those who need some nursing care but not full hospital treatment.

Seventy per cent of British Columbia tourists prefer double beds, according to a recent tourist camp survey made by travel authorities.

MOTHER TOLD SHE COULDN'T HAVE CHILDREN!—Clifford Hartley, a Mormon of Wigan, England, takes the roll call on arrival in New York with his wife and 11 of their 13 children aboard the liner Britannic, en route to Trinidad, Utah (population 385) to be near two daughters who wed American GIs and are living in Salt Lake City. From left are: Mike, 5; Muriel, 8; Melvin, 9; Doris, 13; Philip, 3, on lap of Betty, 15; Ruth, 2, held by Gordon, 17; Marion, 19, and Mrs. Hartley holding twins, Carolyn and Dorothy, 1. Mrs. Hartley had been told before her marriage that she never could have children.Dorothy Dix*CHATTERER BETTER THAN
GLUM, SILENT TYPE

Dear Miss Dix: I have a college education, am well-read and have always been blessed with an attractive personality, but I am getting awfully tired of leading the conversation wherever I go. In other words, I think I talk too much.

Please advise me how I can be entertaining without jabbering all the time.

PERPLEXED.

Answer: Conversation is one of the things in which it is difficult to strike a happy medium, for the most of us talk too much, or do not talk enough. Certainly nothing gets on our nerves more than to have to listen to the chronic babbler who goes on and on forever, unless it is the dummy out of whom you have to corkscrew every word.

Of course, if everyone were a spellbinder, we would urge the glib talkers to continue with their monologues while we hung entranced upon their utterances, but alas, such is not the case. Most of the great talkers have nothing worth listening to to say. They are glutted with words, but are short on ideas. And we soon get fed up on having to listen to Mr. A. telling us all the details of how he pulled off a big deal, and Mrs. B.'s repetition of the smart things the baby said, and Mrs. C.'s detailed account of her last illness.

SOCIAL MILLSTONE
On the other hand, no other human being is a greater social millstone than the person who has passed into the silence and with whom you have to toil and sweat to keep up even the pretense of a conversation. He parts with every word as if it were the Kohinor and is just about as entertaining a companion as a store dummy would be.

Women are accused of talking too much. Perhaps they do, but nobody can imagine a happy home with a glum woman in it who never gossips, or tells any news, or picks up a funny story, or even gets into an argument with her husband.

So, lady, personally speaking, I do not advise you to join the silent "sisterhood." Don't stop prattling. Keep the conversation going. Make your talk as interesting as you can, but keep talking. Only play fair. Don't monopolize the chatter. When God gave women tongues, He expected them to use them.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband is a very prosperous businessman. I do all of my own work and he pays me $50 a month wages, but he never gives me a nickel beyond that, and I have to account to him for every cent of the household bills and explain why I bought a pan, or a kettle, or anything.

I am fed up on his always throwing up to me what things cost and I am thinking of getting a job and supporting myself. Don't you think I would be justified in doing it?

W. M. D.

Answer: You would be justified in rebelling against your husband treating you like an ill-paid servant, but you wouldn't be smart. You have done just as much in helping your husband make a fortune as he has and you should go on a strike until you make him come across with your share of the money you have helped earn.

It is a pity these tightwad husbands, who never give their hard-working wives a penny of their very own, don't have to hire servants to do the work that their wives have to do for nothing. By the time they got through paying for high-priced cooks and laundresses and baby-tenders they would find out that even a wife is worthy of her hire.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a Vet going to college and in love with a girl who is crazy about me. But my problem is that my mother will have nothing to do with her, as her father is vulgar and her mother very common. This spring she will be 18 and will finish high school and I am thinking of getting a job so we can run away and marry. I hate her parents and if she marries me she will have to give them up. Shall I tell her this? Or how can I win her away from them until we are married?

FRANK.

Answer: Not one marriage in a thousand turns out happily when a boy and girl marry outside of their own class. Girls, far more than boys, are what their parents make them. This girl has been brought up in a different environment from yours. She has tastes and habits and points of view that she acquired at her mother's knee and that are obnoxious to you and will be to the people with whom you expect to associate, but who will not receive her.

Don't wreck your whole life by a foolish marriage.

Talented Leads In Guild Presentation

The Victoria Players' Guild in presenting Rudolf Besler's play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," at the Sirocco on June 21, 22 and 23, is fortunate in having strong leads in the play, taken by Noel Cusack, who plays the part of Elizabeth Barrett,

Col. Victor W. Mills as Edward Barrett, the father, and William Lukyn as Robert Browning. Noel Cusack is well known in local amateur circles where she has taken the lead in many theatrical productions. Having seen the "Barretts of Wimpole Street" played in Florence, Italy, in 1942, Col. Mills brings a freshness to a difficult role which requires experience. He was a Canadian Drama Award winner in 1939 for his acting and production work.

William Lukyn comes with experience in the part of Browning. His acting ability was specially mentioned by the adjudicator at the recent Victoria Drama Festival. Others in the cast are: Moira Mulholland, Gertrude Cunningham, Margaret Hincks, Michael Holman, Geoffrey Bolseth, Dan Beale, Roy Blodgett, Gordon Harris, Dan Jacobs, Patricia Atkinson, Col. C. W. Devey and Gordon Pether.

Takes First Plane Trip At 82; To See Glasgow After 40 Years

Peter Barr of 2607 Wark Street, taking his first plane trip at the age of 82, will fly half-way round the world.

Accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Islip of Government House staff, who will take a month's leave of absence, Mr. Barr will leave Patricia Bay airport on the afternoon of July 2, for his first trip home to Scotland in 40 years.

Mr. Barr and his daughter came to Canada from their home in Glasgow in 1909. A young sister of Mrs. Islip's, Jeannie, was left with an aunt and uncle, who brought her up.

This trip home will afford Mr. Barr the first visit with his other daughter, in 40 years. He is grandfather of this year's Victoria May Queen, Belle Luscombe.

Plant Closes Down

VANCOUVER (CP)—Surplus stocks of rayon in the United States have forced the Wood-fibre pulp mill here to close "on a temporary basis," it was announced Thursday.

Why I Will Vote MAYHEW

FRANK SEHL
"Of course I'll vote for the Hon. Bob Mayhew," says Frank Sehl of 2411 Wark St. sitting down longside a load of wood he has just split.

"During the period he has been member for Victoria his whole hearted efforts have been directed not only for the betterment of Canada as a whole, but for the benefit of Vancouver Island and British Columbia. He knows the west. His interests are here."

Mr. Sehl is the former Provincial Collector of Taxes for Victoria Assessment District. Besides other community interests for years he conducted the Arion Male Voice Choir. Now he philosophizes and wrestles wood for the big family home on Wark St. With ripe wisdom he knows what he's doing when he votes Mayhew on June 27th.

Electioneering Over Premier Johnson Returns To Office

Premier Byron Johnson returned to his office at the Parliament Buildings here today after spending election day and Thursday in his constituency of New Westminster.

He met other members of the cabinet for the first cabinet meeting following the election and afterwards said he had no comment to make on reports that a cabinet shuffle may be in the offing.

Mr. Johnson was shortly named a successor to Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam who is to retire from politics and did not seek re-election in the Wednesday provincial by-election.

It is possible that other members may be appointed to the cabinet, the legislature having made provision at the last session to increase the cabinet from 10 to 12 members.

Mr. Johnson, who conducted one of the longest and most difficult election campaign tours in the history of the province, is expected to take a vacation shortly. He has not yet, however, made plans for his holiday.

Kennedy Continues As President Of Liquor Officials

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the B.C. Liquor Board, Thursday was re-elected president of the Canadian Association of Liquor Commissioners.

Annual convention of the provincial liquor heads, attended for the first time by a Newfoundland representative, ended here Thursday. The Newfoundland representative was D. J. French. The entire business sessions of the commissioners were held behind closed doors. Topics discussed included B.C.'s new liquor educational program and problems arising out of the administration of liquor control legislation in several Canadian provinces. Officials, however, would issue no statement following the convention on any decisions reached by the meeting or on the trend of discussions.

Strachan Suggests Canada Overcharged Britain For Lumber

Robert Strachan, C.C.F. candidate in Nanaimo for the June 27 federal general election, suggested at an election meeting in the C.C.F. North Douglas Hall Thursday night that the United Kingdom now was buying lumber elsewhere because Canadian producers had over-charged her in 1947.

"The ruthless instincts of a monopoly economy such as we have in Canada helped to bring about its own demise by such actions as charging the people of Britain three times the Canadian ceiling price for lumber as was done in 1947 at a time when the people of Britain had to have the material," he said.

"Is it any wonder that the British people are now looking elsewhere to purchase their lumber supplies?"

Mr. Strachan said a C.C.F. government would recapture overseas markets by instituting long-term agreements on an international level at a fair price. Neither a Liberal nor a Conservative government could do that because such agreements would put a curb on excessively high profits, he added.

With government figures indicating an alarming drop in Canadian exports, he urged his listeners to vote C.C.F. to prevent further losses of much needed Canadian markets.

Reds Climb With Victory Over Eatons

Red's Service moved into a virtual second-place tie with Toppers and Adverts in the Women's Senior Softball League last night by bopping Eaton's, 9 to 4. It was Red's fifth win of the year against two defeats and left the club a game behind league-leading Sidney.

Ruth Oster pitched a neat two-hitter for the Service girls, the two blows coming in the sixth inning.

Eaton's grabbed a one-run lead in the first half of the first inning but it was short lived as Red's came back with two in their half of the stanza and went on from there to pile up a 9 to 3 margin by the end of the third.

Marion Lingdren hit a bases-full home run for Red's in the second frame.

Tonight Toppers and Adverts will battle it out for second place in the league standings. At present the teams are tied with 4 and 1 season records.

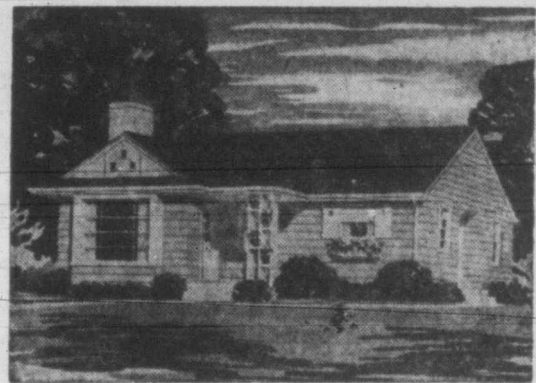

Short scores follow:

R. H. E.
Eaton's 4 2 2
Red's Service 9 6 4
Sande and Murray; Oster and Hood, Downey.

Cleveland Indians Start Scalping Act

Have the world-champion Cleveland Indians awakened from their season-long lethargy and gone on the warpath? The answer should be forthcoming after their three-game series with the league-leading New York-Yankees which starts today.

Heartened by five straight victories over the Yankees and Boston Red Sox, the teams generally regarded as their toughest opposition, Cleveland followers today were certain that their favorites finally had straightened themselves out.

The Cleveland die-hards also pointed out that the Tribe's vaunted pitching staff appeared to be coming around.

Rookie Mike Garcia gained his second decision in five days Thursday when he pitched the Indians to a 6 to 3 triumph over the Red Sox. However, he needed help from Alton Benton in the seventh when he wilted from the intense heat. Benton allowed only one single in 2½ innings after Garcia gave up seven in 6½. It was big Mike's sixth victory against two defeats.

YANKEES SPLIT
The victory enabled the fourth-place Indians to pick up half a game on the Yankees, who were held to a split in their double-header with Chicago White Sox. A gap of 6½ games separates the clubs.

Fred Sanford, purchased from the St. Louis Browns for $100,000 last winter, went the route for the first time this season as he pitched the Yankees to a 5 to 4 victory and a split with the White Sox. The Sox had won the opener, 10 to 6, scoring nine runs in the first two innings against Tommy Byrne and Clarence Marshall.

Eddie Joost, Philadelphia's sensational shortstop, hammered his 15th home run, drove in two runs and scored three to lead the Athletics to a 7 to 3 triumph over Hal Newhouse, and the Detroit Tigers. The victory moved the A's up to within a game of second-place Detroit and 5½ of the top. Lou Brissie allowed eight hits to register his sixth triumph.

Sid Hudson doled out five hits in pitching Washington Senators to a 5 to 0 victory over the Browns in the only night game in the majors. It was the Senators' second straight shutout win over St. Louis.

RACE TIGHTENS
The National League race tightened up when the second-place St. Louis Cardinals whipped Brooklyn Dodgers 6 to 2 while third-place Boston and fourth-place Philadelphia also won their games. The Cards now trail the Dodgers by one game. The Braves and Phils are two games off the pace.

Chasing Lefty Joe Hatten with a four-run barrage in the seventh inning, the Cards won the rubber contest on the three-game series with Brooklyn.

Lou Klein, the first of the Mexican League jumpers to appear in a big-league box score, slammed a single while pinch hitting for winning pitcher Red Mungler in the seventh to keep the rally alive.

Moe Tudor earned himself a nice going-away present. The bespectacled coach of the Navy entry in the senior baseball loop is leaving for Halifax at the end of the month, and if he plans to hook up in the baseball circuit in the east, he will certainly make it on his present batting average.

Tudor is currently the top sticker in the amateur loop here, sporting a mark of .440, made up of 11 hits in 25 trips. He is actually a pitcher, but has seen action in right field and first base in the majority of his games this season.

Second on the list is Rookie Wright, popular Eagles' shortstop. Wright has batted out 16 hits in 38 trips, for an average of .421. Jim Harford and Art Worth of Boosters are tied for third position, each with .395, while Bill Reynolds of Pitzer & Nex, early season leader, is fifth with .390.

TEAM AVERAGES
In the team averages, Boosters and Eagles lead the hitting side, each with a .252 mark as a unit. Pitzer & Nex are close behind with .251, while the Navy squad trails with .204. Eagles are the top fielding club with an aver-

Opening Of British Stud Draws Favorable Comment

NEW YORK (AP)—The British Jockey Club's decision to open its general stud book to foreign-bred horses was hailed today as a boon to the entire breeding industry and international turf relations.

The controversial, 36-year-old "Jersey Act," long a bone of contention between Britain on one side and France and the United States on the other, was proposed by the late Earl of Jersey and implied that only horses registered in the general British stud book were pure, as thoroughbreds are judged. Since its 1913 inception, the act had stymied export trade in American bloodstock.

The British Jockey Club announced yesterday, through its official "racing calendar," that new regulations in the next issue of the stud book, due in 1953, will admit any horse with eight or nine crosses of pure blood tracing back at least a century if track performances in its im-

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jersey

Jones never was adverse to getting a little publicity for his own heavyweight, even if it involved mentioning some rivals. . . . And it's with that in mind that Jersey offers a size-up of the heavyweight prospects. . . .

Here's the rest of the list:

Scot Prefers Victoria

When Glasgow man, Alastair Lyle, served with the R.A.F. for two and a half years at Pat Bay during the war, he formed two attachments. One is now his wife and the other is his love of Victoria.

"After living in Glasgow weather, can you blame me?" says Lyle, who is now in charge of the ties, socks and sweater department in the Government Street store of W. & J. Wilson.

When in Britain Lyle worked with well-known outfitters in Glasgow and London, and every now and again he comes across one of his old trans-Atlantic customers.

He has been in Victoria with the W. & J. Wilson firm for two years.

"The future of the division certainly doesn't depend on the current crop of fighters—the likes of Ezzard Charles, Jersey Joe Walcott, Joey Maxim, Lee Savold, Bruce Woodcock, etc.," he explains. . . .

Jersey's candidate is 22-year-old Maynard Jones (definitely no relation) of Wilmington, Del. . . . Manager Jones tabs him as "fast, clever and a stiff puncher but handicapped by difficulty in getting work." Jersey doesn't mention that at times he's cursed Maynard for being "unreliable" and wandering off to Wilmington instead of staying here and staying in shape.

Future Of Famed Dog 'Rip' Discussed In Court Today

The most-famous dog in British Columbia was discussed in Supreme Court today.

His name is "Rip," a wire-haired terrier, who was bequeathed a sum of $75 a month for care and upkeep during his lifetime in the will of Marguerite E. Spratt, who died here July 31, 1946.

The matter before the court was not a cheerful one for Rip. It concerned the sale of his home and plans for his future burial. According to the will of the testatrix, who left an estate of $250,000, Agnes Cartwright, a friend of Mrs. Spratt, was to continue to live, if she chose in the deceased's home, 1385 Lotbiniere Avenue, and to look after the dog.

The will stipulated that Rip was to occupy the bed in the deceased's bedroom, was to be bathed in the bathroom adjoining the bedroom, and allowed the same privileges as his mistress. Miss Cartwright was to receive $75 for the care and upkeep of Rip as well as $1,000 a year as long as she took care of the dog at the Lotbiniere residence. On Rip's death, Mrs. Cartwright was to receive a sum of $5,000.

UNABLE TO CONTINUE
Alan Macfarlane, counsel for the Montreal Trust, executor of the estate, told Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane that Miss Cartwright was no longer able to look after the dog.

In accordance with the will, he said, the dog's care had been turned over to another person, who is also to receive the sum of $75 for the care and upkeep of the animal.

While the will provided for the sale of the residence if Miss

Cartwright chose to live elsewhere, Mr. Macfarlane pointed out the testatrix had expressed the wish that the dog should be buried in the garden of the estate. The lawyer asked directions from the judge as to what to do.

He said the home had been evaluated by real estate agents at $25,000 and that it was important that the house should be sold when real estate values were high.

PROVISION FOR BURIAL

Mr. Macfarlane felt that the home could be sold with a provision in the sale transaction that a plot of ground should be set aside for the burial place of "Rip." The judge was of the opinion that an agreement of this kind could be reached with a prospective buyer.

It was also pointed out by Mr. Macfarlane that money was being used up from the residue of the estate for the upkeep of the large home.

A. P. Dawe, counsel for the beneficiaries, said he thought the estate should be sold, but asked for time to consult his clients before an order was granted for the sale of the home.

Liberal Women's Forum members were notified today that the date of the garden party planned for Saturday has been postponed to a later date.

Arthur B. Armstrong, charged with six counts under the Excise Tax Act, pleaded not guilty to all charges and was remanded to June 27 for trial when he appeared in city police court today. W. Berkeley Monteith is defence counsel, J. A. Byers Crown counsel.

City fire wardens will take up the question of industrial plants allowing smoke stacks to cloud sections of the city with soot. This was reported at the City Hall today following receipt of a complaint from Duncan Bissett, 511 Cecelia Road, that the smoke nuisance was so bad in his district that he was unable to paint his new home without soot sticking to the surface.

DONALD MCGUGAN

Donald McGugan of Victoria was today installed as grand master of the Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of British Columbia. Mr. McGugan, first Victorian to be grand master since the late W. P. Marchant held the post about seven years ago, was installed by F. J. Burd, Vancouver, senior past grand master.

Delegates from 136 lodges in this province, numbering between 400 and 500, plus several visiting delegates from other western Canadian provinces and Pacific northwest states, were on hand for the ceremony.

Mr. Burd has been conducting installations in the grand lodge for more than 30 years.

Mr. McGugan succeeds George H. Ellis of Kamloops. Also installed today were: John H. N. Morgan, New Westminster, deputy grand master; J. Murray Mitchell, Courtenay, senior grand warden; Lawrence Healey, Vancouver, junior grand warden, and D. A. Stewart, North Vancouver, grand treasurer, and 20 deputy district grand masters.

The two-day 78th annual communication wound up this afternoon.

Spiritualists Hold Convention Here

Delegates from 10 centres in the province were present at the 12th annual convention of the B.C. Council of the National Spiritualist Association of Canada held at the Open Door Spiritualist Church in Victoria.

Officers elected for the year were: President, Rev. Walter Holder; first vice-president, Mrs. Mary Anderson, Nanaimo; second vice-president, Mrs. Winifred Bentham, Nanaimo; secretary, Mrs. Doris Hornig, Vancouver; treasurer, Rev. Mrs. Louise Daniels, New Westminster.

The council welcomed a new member: The Church of the Radiant Flame; pastor, Rev. Ivy Draper.

The ladies of the Open Door Spiritualist Church entertained the delegates and friends at a banquet.

Chow Fook Cheong and George Gee, Vancouver Chinese, were remanded to tomorrow for sentence on two charges alleging illegal possession of a pistol, when their case was completed in city police court today.

Plan For More Veterans' Houses Coming Before Full City Council

City Council is expected to deal again shortly with the question of constructing 100 more low-rent veterans' houses.

Aldermen will meet next Tuesday when a Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation plan for a new project probably will be reintroduced.

Several weeks ago a by-law, authorizing erection of 100 more veterans' houses through the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, was defeated on final reading by two aldermen, John Baxter and Waldo Skillings.

The final reading required a three-quarters majority of all members of the council to pass, and with Ald. Frank Mulliner away on a trip to England, the two dissenting votes defeated the by-law.

Ald. Mulliner who favored previous housing projects under the government housing corporation plan, has returned to Victoria and it is known that Mayor Percy George is anxious to bring up the question again. Ald. Mulliner could turn the tide by voting in favor of the by-law.

Aldermen Discuss Polluted Waters At City Beaches

City Council's health committee and public works committee both discussed the question of pollution of the water at Foul Bay and Ross Bay beaches today, but no decision had been reached at press time on what action will be taken to correct the condition.

Thursday the city received a petition from 77 residents demanding immediate action to halt sewage from the city's main sewer at Clover Point from polluting the water.

The petitioners said signs at the beach were not good enough. Little children could not read them.

They asked that either the sewer be extended out into the straits or settling basins or septic tanks be built at the outlet. Money for the job should be made available at once, even though the cost might be high.

Charges Dismissed In Assault Case

Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today dismissed two charges of assault which arose from a Chinatown incident in which blows were exchanged between one Chinese and two of three white boys on the morning of June 4.

Charge against John W. Oosterink, 22, 1308 Dallas Road, and David Manzer, 22, of 1002 Vancouver Street, of assaulting George Chan, 37, of 552 Fisgard Street, was thrown out as was a counter-charge laid by Oosterink alleging Chan assaulted him.

"It is quite an extraordinary case because of no previous feeling or animus . . . an incident that arose, in a sense, out of the blue," said Magistrate Hall.

The magistrate said he thought the Chinese's action resulted because he thought he was being attacked. Defence witnesses' stories jibed reasonably well to indicate there was no intent to attack Chan, he said. The magistrate, in dismissing the charge, said he must give Oosterink and Manzer the benefit of the doubt.

Satisfactory Start Made Say Losing Union Of Electors

The Union of Electors, whose 12 candidates failed to win a single seat in the Wednesday polling, feels it made a satisfactory showing in its initial bid to the British Columbia electorate.

This was reported today by Millard Loughheed, spokesman for the Victoria candidates.

"It takes courage to vote in accordance with your own conscience when a gun is literally held at your head, as in Russia, or figuratively as in this election—the gun in this case being the threat of the socialists attaining power," he said.

"This election proved that people do not want state control. What it did not prove is that people value their freedom above all else. It seems that people still believe we must go halfway to Moscow to keep from going all the way."

Oil Boom Creates Lusty New Town On Saskatchewan

DEVON, Alta. (CP)—Less than a year and a half ago this little town 15 miles southwest of Edmonton did not exist. But today it is one of the lusty infants of the oil boom.

When the army of oil workers swept north from the fields around Calgary, they laid out Devon on the south bank of the winding North Saskatchewan River. Ninety per cent of the town's 500 people work for Imperial Oil Limited, but Devon is not a company town. In the next two years, it is expected the population will double.

Besides the nearby Leduc oil fields, the town soon will have another source of revenue. A $12,000,000 gas compression plant now is being built just south of the townsite. This plant and the administrative offices of some companies operating in the Leduc field have given the town's business section an added boost.

There are lumber, hardware and drug stores, a cafe, barber and beauty shop and a poolroom and garage. A hotel is nearing completion and a moving picture theatre will be started soon. The oil company has provided facilities for schoolchildren.

There is a fire hall and a fire truck bought from the R.C.A.F. The town still lacks a hospital but emergency cases can be given first aid treatment in a well-equipped section of the fire hall by the district nurse.

To keep up its position as a model oil town, Devon has a modern pumping plant and filtration system, up-to-date sewage, cement sidewalks. A paving program will be undertaken and main traffic arteries boulevarded. Electricity completed the picture of this modern boom town.

Yellowknife Has First Political Campaign Meeting

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—History was made here Wednesday night when Aubrey Simmons, Liberal candidate in the federal riding of Yukon-Mackenzie, held the Northwest Territories first political campaign meeting. The Yukon riding was recently extended to include residents of the territories, formerly without representation in the federal house.

More than 100 residents of this gold mining centre heard Mr. Simmons, who lives at Whitehorse, Y.T., pledge a 10-point program to benefit the territories. He promised quota grubstakes for bonafide prospectors, free hold land rights for Yellowknife home owners and separate workmen's compensation legislation for the Mackenzie district.

Mr. Simmons is being opposed in the riding by Matt Berry (Independent) and A. Stevens (C.C.F.). Berry and Stevens have canvassed the Yukon but have yet to speak in the territories.

Bridge is an intellectual game. You have certain rights, but on the other hand, it is unethical to take advantage of certain situations. To hesitate with a singleton in order to mislead the opponents is considered unethical. Watching where your opponent or partner draws his card from in order to get a count on a suit is considered unethical.

However, you do have a right to make natural deductions from certain plays or mannerisms. If one of the players picks up his cards and nervously asks, "Whose deal is it?" in all likelihood he has a good hand. During the play certain mannerisms may guide you.

Take today's hand for example, which was made by one of the country's greatest players.

He won the opening lead of the five of clubs with the king, then led the deuce of hearts. East hesitated and finally played the eight of hearts. The queen was played from dummy and West won with the ace. He returned the queen of diamonds which declarer won. The three of hearts was led and East played the nine-spot. Now should declarer finesse the 10?

Bear in mind what East did when the first heart was played. He hesitated. If he had only the eight and nine of hearts, he would have had nothing to hesitate about. Therefore, you are within your rights to reason that East also must hold the jack. You must finesse the 10, and you make the hand.

You might ask why the 10 should not be finessed the first time. If East held the ace and hesitated a moment, wondering if he should play it, you would then lost two heart tricks, one to the jack and one to the ace.

Making Same Movies For Adults, Children Said To Be Mistake

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's wrong with the movies? Free-thinking Bette Davis comes up with an answer to the oft-heard question:

"Hollywood tries to combine entertainment for both kids and adults in the same picture. The result is a movie which isn't suitable for either."

She looks less like Bette Davis and more like a vivacious Spanish dancer these days, because of her black wig for "Beyond the Forest." But when she comes across with some startling statements, you realize it's Bette, all right.

"That's what the English pictures have over American ones," she continued. "They make pictures for children only and pictures for adults only."

NO EMOTIONS

"Kids like any kind of picture, whether they understand it or not. But it stands to reason that the gangster and murder pictures they see have some influence on them. The movies glamorize crime and criminals, and children are very impressionable."

"On the other hand, we don't have honest adult pictures on the screen, either. In the last 10 to 15 years movies have become so restricted that today it is impossible to portray true emotions on the screen.

"I'm not making a plea for dirty movies—just honest ones."

A LEADER SPEAKS

"I recognize that foreign trade is the backbone of British Columbia's lumber, mining, fishing and agricultural industries. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to open negotiations immediately for the purpose of making the dollar and the pound convertible, so that we may open and expand our lost overseas markets in the vital sterling area."

George A. Drew

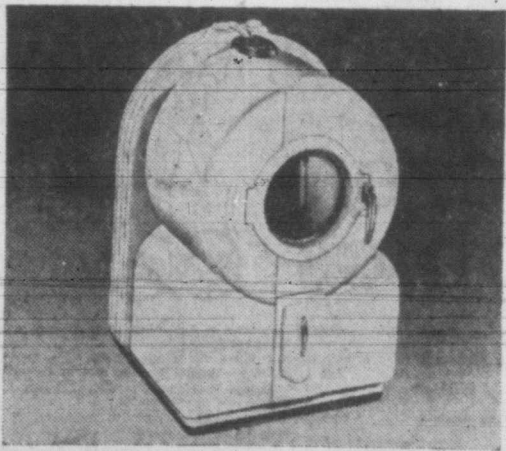

At last . . . a national leader who speaks for British Columbia . . . who knows that over the past 20 years the United Kingdom market has been the backbone of B.C. prosperity . . . who has proven that the present government has not only failed to arrest, but has actually accelerated the decline of British trade with Canada . . . who knows that unless the problem of converting pounds into dollars is solved, the jobs and livelihood of every citizen of B.C. will be seriously threatened . . . who is convinced that with a strong will to do so, the Canadian government can remove present restrictions on British trade and ensure the future prosperity of British Columbia. George Drew has that will!

Halifax Waxes Enthusiastic Over Bicentenary Festival

HALIFAX (CP)—In less than a month, they'll be 200.

These aged Haligonians don't look it. They have been rejuvenated by the belief that their city's June Bicentenary, like a promising fighter, will be a good thing—if its managed right.

If the subject arises, you're likely to hear something like this:

Parades and peanuts celebrations draw tourists and tourists mean money. This particular occasion creates a chance to show the apathetic outsider a good time and give the port—now in the midst of a seasonal shipping slump—a helpful shot-in-the-arm.

For these reasons, nearly everyone expresses guarded optimism and modified determination to make the thing pan out. Haligonians are proud of their city. They firmly believe a vacation couldn't find a better place to while away the summer, among historic and beautiful surroundings.

IN HOLIDAY MOOD

Merchants hopefully are anticipating a boost in business.

They'll probably get it—hotels report bookings months ahead. More than 30 conventions are scheduled for the summer. Jammed in among these are events ranging from mock battles to operettas.

Children pursue studies with a wonderful feeling that something big is about to happen. This holiday mood pervades everyone to a lesser degree but many are bewildered by an endless stream of program additions or alterations.

Almost daily, the bicentenary committee reviews a parade of ideas—rejecting many and selecting a choice few. Accommodation is being solicited from residents, in fact—"anyone within an hour's drive"—and Dalhousie University students will show you the high spots for $1 an hour. Streets are being resurfaced and flowers planted. Houses are being painted, a library built and trolley-coaches kept spotless.

No one yet has suggested a mile-round birthday cake crowned by 200 candles—but there's still time.

SWEDISH ROYALTY ATTEND FESTIVAL—King Gustav V of Sweden is shown with Princess Sibylla and her son, Prince Carl Gustaf, three years old, as they watched the festival that marked Sweden's flag day in Stockholm stadium. King Gustav, who celebrated his 52nd birthday on June 16, is the great-grandfather of Prince Carl Gustaf. The boy's dad, Prince Gustaf Adolf, was killed in an airplane crash in 1947. Grace Moore, American opera singer, died in the same accident. (SNS Photo)

THERE'S SOMETHING NEW ON FOOT—"When is a heel not a heel?" wonders Jack Coleford, left. He's puzzled by this heelless opera pump, displayed in New York City. Gadget was devised for shoes with worn soles and broken shanks, but usable uppers. From gay Paree comes the word that, lace stockings, like those at right, will have the chi-chi set all gaga. The nylons have filmy lace medallions scattered from knee to instep, with the foot entirely of lace except heel and toe tips.

Toronto To Present Shakespeare Plays At 3-Week Festival

TORONTO (CP)—A summer festival of Shakespeare under the stars is scheduled to open here June 27 and to run through three weeks.

Earle Grey, who heads the company which will perform three of the best loved comedies, says he prefers to think of this year's venture as a dress rehearsal for a more complete kind of annual festival to be centred around this city's central university, museum and library buildings as a regular holiday period attraction.

The plays for this year are "As You Like It," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Twelfth Night."

As plans now stand this initial festival offers a wide variety of entertainment which includes indoor music at the week-ends as well as evening performances of the plays in the quadrangle of Trinity College.

Prof. Leo Smith, noted composer, cellist and author, has undertaken to arrange two Sunday concerts of Elizabethan music, some derived from the period, in which he is an authority, and some of his own compositions on Tudor themes. Associated with him will be Greta Kraus, eminent harpsichordist and musicologist. Both are members of the faculty of the Royal Conservatory of Music here.

WELL BACKED

The Earle Grey Players have been giving separate performances of these and others of the lighter Shakespeare plays in Trinity's quad for several seasons. The enterprise has grown and a committee of educational, theatrical and other cultural leaders has swung in behind the project.

As a setting for the Tudor plays the Tudor architecture of Trinity College surrounding the quadrangle is as near perfect as any North American city can afford. And the Great Hall, to the west of the quad, is equally ideal for the Sunday concerts.

Temperatures of 90 degree Fahrenheit below zero have been recorded in the Siberian province of Yukutsk.

Do you know this neighbour of yours?

PROBABLY you've seen him many times. But you might not always recognize him, for he appears in several different roles.

At home, he is a typical father. And this role helps him understand the problems that other fathers face—especially in trying to provide financial security for their families.

In his spare time he's usually active in community affairs. Red Cross, Big Brother Movement, municipal committees—wherever there's a worthy cause to be served you're likely to find him in the thick of it, doing his fair share. For such organizations just naturally attract a man whose job is helping others to achieve better living through financial independence.

He's something of a student, too. Many are the hours he spends absorbing information about tax changes, beneficiary laws and other subjects related to your plans for retirement and the protection of your dependents.

Who is this man?

He is the typical modern life insurance agent. A man who's trained for his job. A good citizen. And a good neighbour.

More than a million Canadian families have benefited by his experience and advice. And he's always glad to be of service to you!

A helpful citizen in your community

When your agent sells you life insurance, he also helps to improve your community. For a large part of each life insurance dollar is put to work, through investments, to build schools, bridges, highways, industrial plants and many other projects that create jobs and make for better living.

You share in these improvements, made possible through the efforts of your helpful fellow-citizens—the modern life insurance agent!

The DOCTOR

Says:

GLANDULAR FEVER OFTEN MILD; BELIEVED CAUSED BY VIRUS

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.
Glandular fever or infectious mononucleosis, as it is generally known by medical men, is probably caused by an infection, very likely a virus.

Slight loss of appetite and vague pains here and there are common early symptoms. Slight fever is the general rule. In some people there is nausea, vomiting and a little pain in the abdomen. In mild cases there may be headaches and lack of pep. Enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck, in the armpits, groin and elsewhere is common.

The blood shows changes which are important in making the diagnosis. The number of white cells in the blood, sometimes called the leukocyte count, is increased. When the blood is smeared on a glass slide, stained and examined under the microscope, it will show a peculiar type of cell which was formerly called a monocyte which has given the name now applied to the disease.

Except for these cells and a complicated special test of the blood called the heterophile antibody test, the symptoms of infectious mononucleosis are like those of many other conditions. For this reason the diagnosis is often long delayed and sometimes not made at all.

Infectious mononucleosis is particularly common in young people. It is difficult to tell how long the condition will last because the beginning is often so vague. In most people the fever, however, lasts less than two weeks, though in a few it may persist for a long time.

There is no good treatment for infectious mononucleosis nor is treatment particularly important because the disease is usually mild and recovery usually takes place without treatment in a short time. However, some may feel rather run down for a long time.

Question: I have had a bad smelling breath which has caused me much embarrassment. What can be done for this?

Answer: The cause must first be found. There are many possible causes for bad breath. The cause may lie in the mouth itself, bad teeth or bad gums, or there may be some organic cause elsewhere in the body, particularly the digestive tract or the lungs. Finally, bad breath is sometimes caused by smoking or by food or drink.

DR. JOHNSON HELPED TO SAVE GOLDSMITH FROM PRISON TERM

Sometimes the members of a college class take votes on various questions, such as this one: "Which member of the class is most likely to succeed?" If a vote of that kind had been taken at Trinity College in Dublin 200 years ago, it is hardly likely that a single vote would have been cast for Oliver Goldsmith. On the other hand, he probably would have won first place in answers to this question:

"Which member of our class is most likely to fail?"

Goldsmith did get a college degree, but he seemed to be without any promise for success in doing anything important. At college he had studied only as much as was necessary to pass his examinations. He had gained a liking for playing cards, and had learned to sing Irish songs and to play the flute.

Going to a bishop, he applied for a place as minister of the gospel. He was dressed in red clothing, however, and was turned out of the bishop's palace in a hurry.

After serving as a tutor for a short time, he decided to go abroad to settle in the United States. He set out for the port of Cork with a sum equal to about $150 in his pocket. In six weeks he returned home without a shilling and reported that he had missed the boat.

Goldsmith "missed" many other times before he made his way to London and lived or tried to live as a writer. In this field he was clever, and actually earned money, but he had his hard moments. One of the hard moments came when his landlady gave him a bill for room rent which was far past due. Unless he paid it, she said, he would have to go to prison.

One of his friends, Dr. Samuel Johnson, sent him a small loan, and came to call on him.

"What are you going to do for the future?" asked Johnson. "I might sell this novel," replied Goldsmith, handing his friend the manuscript for "The Vicar of Wakefield."

Active Worker In A.O.F. Dies

A native daughter and active worker in the A.O.F., Mrs. Beulah Maud McDowell, 1424 Denman Street, died Thursday at Royal Jubilee Hospital, at the age of 61. Mrs. McDowell was a member of Court Maple Leaf Lodge, A.O.F., since 1918, and at one time served as past chief ranger. She had been active in the Island Temple Pythian Sisters, No. 8, since 1921 and held office of Most Excellent Chief in 1924. She was also a member of Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, I.O.O.F., since May, 1944.

Surviving are her husband, Donald McDowell; a son, William of Victoria, her mother, Mrs. Marcelline Lyon, also of Victoria and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Frazier of San Francisco.

Rev. J. Lewis McLean will conduct funeral services from McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel, Saturday afternoon at 1.30. The services will be held under auspices of the Island Temple Pythian Sisters and Colfax Rebekah Lodge. Interment will be in the family plot, Ross Bay Cemetery.

Hair Styles Shown

LONDON (Reuter) — Hair-dressing styles from the dawn of history to the 20th century are on view at an exhibition which opened in London's fashionable West End today.

One exhibit represents a bearded woman of Lombardy who cut her hair and stuck it on her face to complete her disguise as a man "to outwit the licentious soldiery."

A collection of hair jewelry includes a circlet of Lord Nelson's hair and a lock from the head of "Bonny Prince Charlie," Prince Charles Edward, 18th-century pretender to the throne of England.

Spokane Conceded Number Of Records In 16-Run Inning

SPOKANE (AP)—The scorers of the Spokane's 16-run, three-homer barrage Wednesday night in the third inning against Tacoma are still checking a long list of possible records. Spokane won 20 to 14.

Spokane did this in the hectic third: Got two grand-slam homers and another good for three runs; sent 21 batters to the plate; connected for 12 base hits, and sent 2,000 fans home mumbling to themselves.

The record possibilities for one inning of play in the Western International League: 1, most runs scored; 2, most grand-slam homers; 3, most players at bat (21); 4, most runs batted in by homers (11); 5, most hits (12); 6, most hits by one player (Lyle Palmer, 3).

The total of 34 runs scored by both teams failed to match the league record of 41 set by Wenatchee and Yakima in 1947—Yakima 34, Wenatchee 6 in seven innings. No more than eight runs was scored by Yakima in any inning of that game.

The Chronicle said today its records show all the possibilities listed above as records for the wily league.

Senior Baseball Off

Tonight's scheduled senior amateur baseball tilt between Boosters and Navy has been postponed, league officials announced. Game will be picked up later in the schedule. Next loop game is billed Sunday at Beacon Hill, pitting together Eagles and Boosters, starting at 2.30.

Know Your LIBERAL LEADERS

HON. R. W. MAYHEW

The word "humanity" is synonymous with the name Robert W. Mayhew. Here is a born leader who firmly believes in the Biblical injunction not to let his left hand know what his right hand does. To chronicle all his kind acts is a biographical impossibility. The public learns of them in due course through others who relate his generous deeds to counteract Mr. Mayhew's own modesty. The Honourable Robert W. Mayhew is a sound, hard-headed, practical businessman. He is a man trustworthy and competent in all matters pertaining to finance. His daily life and his dealings with people further prove that fact that there is gold in the golden rule.

Mr. Mayhew includes love of his city and province in all that he does. His job is to create prosperity for both, including Victoria's shipyards, her tourist trade and welfare in general. His philosophy is based on the living truth that people come before money. No politician has done more for Victoria and British Columbia than Mr. Mayhew when it comes to bridging the Rockies to draw British Columbia closer to Ottawa. He is a persistent man in his ideals. His persistence is based upon a sound, hard-won knowledge of British Columbia and the part which this province can play in the pattern of Canadian life.

The Honourable Robert W. Mayhew knows how good her shipyards are. He knows the wealth that abounds in the seas that wash her shores. He knows her forests, her farms and industrial plants. British Columbia enjoyed the largest share in European contracts financed through Federal loans, not only because she is basically a producer of raw materials and exports, but because Mr. Mayhew was able to convince the Right Honourable C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, that British Columbia could deliver the goods.

With the Honourable Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, he is now working to solve British Columbia's seasonal unemployment problem. With the Honourable Brooke Claxton, Minister of Defence, he has been working for a British Columbia highway to Alaska. Veterans' affairs and their enormous settlements in British Columbia bring him close to the Honourable Milton Gregg, Minister of the Interior, and the Honourable Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare. Mr. Mayhew was successful in his efforts to have the Minister of Agriculture purchase surplus quantities of raspberries in S.O.2 solution from fruit growers in the Fraser Valley. He further persuaded this ministry to buy 250,000 boxes of surplus apples from the Okanagan.

Who made Eastern industrialists and Parliamentarians realize that British Columbia could turn out sturdy ships for the war effort? Who worked hard for a new Post Office in Victoria—for the Veterans' Hospital—for low rental housing? Who is working now, pressing for peacetime follow-ups so that naval vessels will come into Victoria's shipyards? In point of such service and work done for the community, the answer is the Honourable Robert W. Mayhew.

Close to five million dollars will be spent by Ottawa during 1949. This is altogether apart from the regular expenditures of Federal department services which, it is estimated, are higher than in any other city of the same size in Canada.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Govt. Continues As Coalition Says Johnson

Premier Byron Johnson today said the British Columbia government will continue as a coalition.

He dismissed a suggestion that Liberals and Conservatives might split.

In a curt statement, he said the government was elected as a coalition and will hold office on the basis of election.

Czech Archbishop Virtual Prisoner; Had Opposed Reds

PRAGUE (AP) — Archbishop Joseph Beran, head of Czechoslovakia's 9,000,000 Roman Catholics, today was a virtual prisoner in his own palace, as the Communist government's war on the church appeared nearing a climax.

A reliable informant described the Prague archbishop's status as "house arrest."

Neither priests nor laymen could get in to see the archbishop without undergoing a police identification.

Two priests from Archbishop Beran's consistory had been arrested and taken away by police after a raid on the consistory section of the archbishop's palace in which police tried to seize church records.

An armed guard stood outside the archbishop's palace.

More significantly, the reception desk and telephone switchboard inside the palace gate were manned by secret police.

Two Associated Press correspondents who tried to see the archbishop were told by personnel at the reception desk that "the archbishop says 'No'."

Archbishop Beran for some months has fought against a government campaign to take over schools and abolish church papers.

In recent weeks he has sent out a number of clerical letters breathing defiance of government decrees involving the church-state conflict. In one message he hinted that excommunication would be imposed against "collaborators."

The government's cry against the Catholic hierarchy is that the Vatican interferes with Czechoslovak sovereignty.

Dispute Affecting 900 Employees Ends

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — A dispute which started Wednesday with the walkout of 18 pocket-building workers and later affected about 900 employees of the Dominion Rubber Company tire plant, ended today.

President Carl Fitzgerald of Local 80 of the United Rubber Workers (C.I.O.) said union officials met with the pocket builders and that the men reached an "understanding" and would return to work Monday. The pocket workers manufacture part of the carcass or undercoat of truck tires and walked out over a seniority grievance.

Weather Forecast
Clear and warm today and Saturday; southwest winds 20 m.p.h. Low tonight 45; high Saturday 69.

Eddie Waitkus Eventually Will Resume Baseball

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Waitkus will play major league baseball again, but probably not this season — says one of the physicians attending the seriously wounded Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman.

Dr. L. L. Braun, team physician for the Chicago Cubs, said it was "still uncertain" whether Waitkus, shot early Wednesday near the heart by an infatuated 19-year-old girl, will be back in the Phillies' line-up this season.

"But I am quite sure," Dr. Braun said, "he will be back playing baseball. Just when it will be I cannot say."

Waitkus, in the major league since 1946, currently is leading the National League first basemen in the vote for the all-star game next month.

The condition of the 28-year-old player today was described as good—he has "taken a turn for the better, but was not quite out of danger."

Waitkus was shot with a .22 calibre rifle by Ruth Steinhagen, a typist who was secretly in love with the bachelor ball player although she had never met him until she lured him to her room in the Edgewater Beach Hotel Tuesday night. She had told him in a letter and by telephone she wanted to tell him "something important."

The tall, dark-haired girl was removed to jail in lieu of $25,000 cash bond after her arraignment Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Her hearing was continued to June 30 by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan, who also ordered she be examined by Dr. William H. Haines of the Criminal Court Behavior Clinic.

'Infatuated'

Escorted by policemen and a matron, Ruth Steinhagen (center) leaves the exclusive Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago after re-enacting the shooting of Eddie Waitkus, first baseman for the Philadelphia Phillies. The 19-year-old typist explained she had planned the shooting for two years because "I was infatuated with him and wanted the thrill of murdering him." (NEA Telephoto.)

Secret F.B.I. Paper For Use In Novel Says Spy Suspect

WASHINGTON (CP)—Judith Coplon swore today that the "top secret" Federal Bureau of Information report mentioned in papers found in her purse when she was arrested on espionage charges was to figure in a "serious" book.

Miss Coplon's lawyer previously had told the jury trying her he would show that the former Justice Department employee was assembling material for a novel.

But today's testimony on that point was the first from her own lips in the presence of the jury.

A few minutes earlier she had declared in response to a question from her lawyer, Archibald Palmer, "I have always been loyal to the United States."

Japs From Brazil Assured War Lost

TOKYO (Reuter)—Prince Takamatsu, brother of Emperor Hirohito, today assured six Japanese from Brazil that Japan lost the war.

The Japanese, the first to visit Japan from Brazil since the end of the war, said half of Brazil's 300,000 Japanese still believe Japan won the war or that the war was still going on.

Prince Takamatsu said he hoped the Brazilian Japanese would "face reality."

Survey Boat From Victoria Directs Crew Of Fighters

VANCOUVER (CP)—In a mountain-surrounded valley, forest flames today licked their way through rich timber stands.

Three million board feet of newly-felled timber have been destroyed by a fire raging out of control near Sechelt, 40 miles upcoast from Vancouver.

It raged uncontrolled through new stands in a high valley at the head of Gray Creek, 12 miles northwest of Sechelt. Already it had laid waste to more than 100 acres and was still spreading.

Logging crews battled the flames today, directed by forestry officials flown in from Vancouver.

Fifteen loggers were forced to flee the valley, seeking shelter in a camp along a high ridge.

A west wind fanned the flames, and Thursday night the fire's reflection could be seen in Vancouver. Dense smoke clouds blanketed the valley.

Clear dry weather is increasing the forest fire hazard in British Columbia.

Another fire is reported at Melers Creek, in the Butte Inlet area, 140 miles northwest of here, but details were not available.

Friction on rocks resulting from a break in a steel-cabled haulback line is believed to have started the Sechelt fire.

A later report said the flames, raging through operations of the Lamb Logging Company, now covers 170 acres. Other operations are threatened.

In addition to the loss of felled timber, another 3,000,000 feet has suffered almost 50 per cent damage. Logging equipment was also destroyed.

A survey boat from Victoria forestry headquarters is in Sechelt Inlet, relaying fire-fighting instructions to the forest crews.

Toronto Police Sergeant Faces 'Gossip' Charges

TORONTO (CP)—Counsel for Detective Sergeant Arthur Keay today described as "gossip" charges against the police officer being heard before a closed meeting of the Toronto Police Commission.

The hearing is expected to be adjourned to Monday.

Counsel T. B. Horkins said Keay had "no intention of resigning from the police as a result of the charges."

He said: "They are giving us a good hearing."

Mayor Hiram McCallum announced before the meeting that "the best interests of the city will be served if the hearing is conducted without the press present."

Price Dispute Will Halt B.C. Salmon Fishing

VANCOUVER (CP) — A price dispute will halt all British Columbia salmon fishing by Sunday.

The order calling on net-fishermen to cease work was issued today by the United Fishermen's and Allied Union (A.F.L.).

Fish companies have offered a new price schedule, acceptable to the union's negotiating committee, but decision of the membership is needed before it can be accepted. This will not be possible until Monday or Tuesday.

Earlier the fishermen, by a 90 per cent majority, had rejected price offers for the various salmon species. The union had demanded prices ranging from 7 cents for pinks to 14 cents for coho. The new price scale was not made public.

I.W.A. Gets Funds Back From W.I.U.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP) — A court order today restored $136,000 to the British Columbia District Council, International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.).

Chief Justice Wendell Farris in Supreme Court ordered the funds, now held by the court receiver, be paid to the I.W.A., ruling out a claim of the rival Leftist union, the Woodworkers' Industrial Union.

The order ended an eight-month battle over the funds.
